Political sign by-law First amendment violation?

By PAUL HAYES

WILMINGTON- Over the course of the last year, the town's political sign by-law has come under fire as being too restrictive, and in violation of First Amendment free speech rights.

But an article on this year's town warrant would alter the by-law, making it less restrictive.

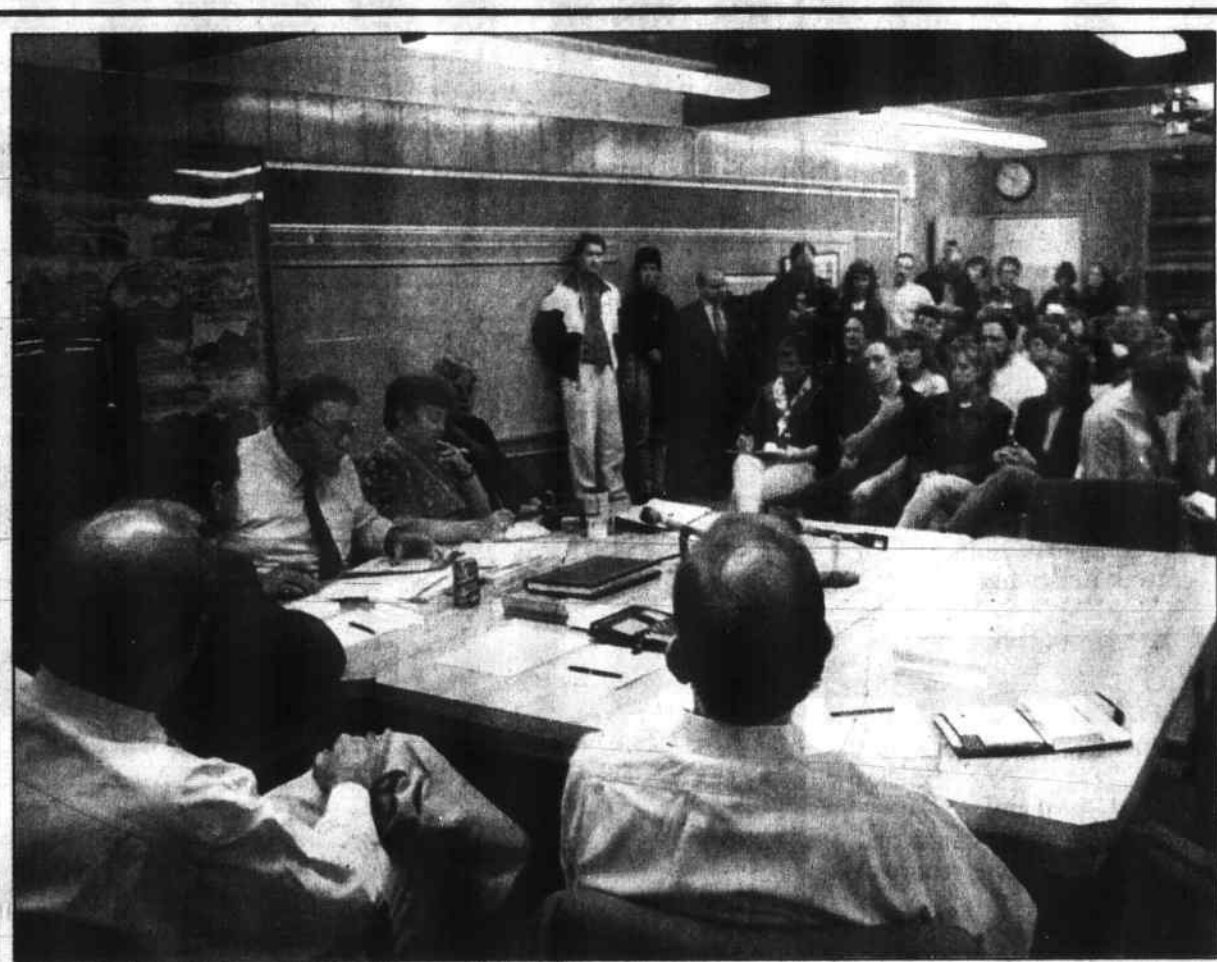

Section 4, chapter 5 of the current by-law reads as follows:

Temporary political signs are hereby restricted in size to six (6) square feet of surface area. One free standing sign of the same size may be placed on private property not less than twenty-five (25) feet from the edge of the nearest paved roadway.

But the article on this years warrant would alter Section 4, Article 5 as follows:

Temporary political signs may be placed on private property, the

THE BOARD OF HEATH MEETING was jammed as they tackled the question of apparent high cancer rates in a neighborhood near the water tower on Kelly Hill. Residents packed the hall as the board heard of cancer incidents in children on Dunton Rd, Nassau Street and Brand Ave.

Board of Health investigating Cancer cluster

By CHARLOTTE COOPER

WILMINGTON - What do t-cell leukemia, acute lymphocytic leukemia (ALL), chronic lymphocytic leukemia (CLL), and Hodgkin's Disease have in common? All of them are cancers and most have been found in the children living on Dunton St., Nassau St., and Brand Ave.

The Board of Health addressed the concerns of a room full of residents and several TV newsmedia crews Tuesday evening, regarding the occurrence of these diseases. Four children living on the streets within 200 yards of each other.

Ann Fitzgerald, the town nurse, said that she spoke to several concerned parents. "[I then] contacted the health office. ALL occurred in young children. I spoke to the nurses at each school and verified the information." She said that one of the children was diagnosed as non-Hodgkin's lymphoma, which is not quite the same as leukemia. She also indicated that she doesn't think this occurrence has any similarity to the Woburn incident 20 years ago.

In a letter sent to the Department of Public Health on April 1st, Board of Health Director Greg Erickson requested the assistance of the DPH in investigating the possibility of a common cause for the cancer outbreaks. He said he sent the DPH what information he had on the cases. "[We] requested the DPH's Community Health and Assessment Unit to do research," Erickson said. "The request was verified by phone." He said that the DPH plans to have the report back during the summer.

Erickson said that the DPH will have all the statistical data on the various types of leukemia and that they would be the best authority to decide if the occurrences in town are significant "clusters." "[They have access to] the cancer registry and all diagnosed cases," Erickson said. "The cancer registry looks into the whole situation."

"If you need any help expediting [the process], I'm in a position to

Selectmen's race

Town growth central to debate

By PAUL HAYES

WILMINGTON- Management of town growth was a central topic of the debate held between Board of Selectmen candidates at WCTV on Monday, March 29.

Four of the seven questions posed to incumbents Mike McCoy and Michael Newhouse, and challengers Phil Beninati and Mark Nelson, revolved around handling the influx of industry, and residents, into Wilmington.

The first question posed to candidates was whether they supported the expansion of the MBTA station located in the town center. McCoy was the lone candidate in opposition to the project.

"It's an asphalt jungle, and a bad idea," McCoy said.

Approval was expressed by the other three candidates, but not without some concern. Nelson said the lot was a good idea, but added that the center of town should be shifted to the area between Olson and Main streets. Newhouse said the expansion would balance the use of the center as a travel corridor and a business center, but was disappointed the MBTA did not award the town more short term parking spaces.

Although California Products has withdrawn their application to move their corporate headquarters to a One Burlington Ave.

location, the candidates were asked their opinion on the companies proposal.

McCoy said he would reject the proposal based on Fire Chief Dan Stewart's opinion that it posed a safety hazard to firefighters, adding that the town needed to protect the well being of its residents.

"God forbid a disaster should occur in the center of town, particularly during peak travel times," McCoy said.

Newhouse, however, said he was not convinced by Stewart's comments that the company would pose a safety risk to the town, but declined to give an opinion because the company had already bypassed the Board of Selectmen. Nelson also did not answer for this reason.

Beninati said he was in favor of California Products, because the town needs business, and the tax revenue a company like California Products would have provided.

However, he apparently contradicted this statement when he said the town needed to create a master zoning plan to separate industrial complexes from the rest of the city.

"We don't want to breathe what [industries] make, or be woken up by their noise," Beninati said.

Nelson was adamant that the town devise a master plan, and insinuated that the current Selectmen had been lax in their efforts to create the plan.

"The town Master Plan Advisory Committee hasn't met for over a year to work on the plan, they should meet on a regular basis," Nelson said. "The plan would allow for smart growth, rather than deal by deal development."

Newhouse countered that the town set aside $30,000 for the Master Plan Advisory Committee, and is moving forward in formulating the plan. In addition, the town Open Space Committee met for the first time

Part three in series

Warrant articles explained

By PAUL HAYES

WILMINGTON- This is the third installment in a five part series which will explain the 52 articles on the warrant for this years Town Meeting.

This weeks installment will review Warrant Articles 26, 27, 28, 30, 31, 32, 33, 40, 42 and 43. Articles 29, 39 and 41 were covered in last weeks Town Crier, Articles 34 through 38 will be reviewed in an upcoming installment.

Town Meeting will take place at Town Hall on April 24, from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m., although it may be extended until after 8 p.m. if all articles have not been voted upon.

Articles may be altered as Town Meeting approaches.

Article 26

To see if the Town will vote to appropriate a sum of money for further constructing, originally equipping and furnishing a new Public Safety Building, including costs incidental and related there to, and to determine how

Shawsheen School fields may be rebuilt

By PAUL HAYES

WILMINGTON- A Town Meeting article seeks to repair local soccer fields, but requires local youth and high school soccer teams to find other places to play during their Fall seasons.

Article Nine on this years town warrant would have the town pay for the reconstruction of the badly deteriorated Shawsheen School soccer fields.

According to Don Onusseit, Superintendent of the Public Works Department, the fields have problems with drainage, and boulders. The field is made up of clay and silty soils, which prevent the drainage of water. As a result, the fields are often muddy days after they have received precipitation.

"A day or two after it rains, the field is still muddy," Onusseit said. "And the puddles remain several days after a rainstorm."

To solve the drainage problems, Public Works will remove the surface material from the fields, and replace it with a more porous soil. In addition, drainage and irrigation systems will be installed at the fields.

In addition, Public Works will remove boulders that have broken through the surface of the field, and pose a hazard to soccer players.

Onusseit believes if reconstruction of the fields begins in late June, and work is conducted throughout the summer and fall, then the fields will be ready for the spring soccer season.

However, the reconstruction will force Wilmington Youth Soccer and high school teams to find other fields to play on during the fall season.

High School athletic director Jim Gillis said the girls' varsity

DID YOU GET IT ALL?

There's still time to look over your income tax return and make sure you've dotted the i's and crossed the t's—and most important—taken every deduction and credit you're entitled to.

New this year: a child tax credit worth up to $400 per child under 17; a Hope scholarship credit that can cover $1,000 of qualified expenses plus half of the next $1,000—as much as $1,500 a year—good only for the first two years of the student's higher education; and a lifetime learning credit that covers 20 percent of qualified tuition and related expenses, worth up to $1,000. It may be worthwhile to forego taking your child as an exemption and letting the student claim a credit—no matter who actually pays the tuition. Another plus: a deduction of $1,000 of interest on a college loan.

Own a business? This year you can expense up to $18,500 on new equipment. The self-employed can deduct a greater percentage of health insurance costs, and there's special income averaging available for farmers.

Have you saved all the taxes you can? Ask the professionals at

Wilmington's first "Good Guy" Lions to honor Rocco again

By MICHELLE DINATALE

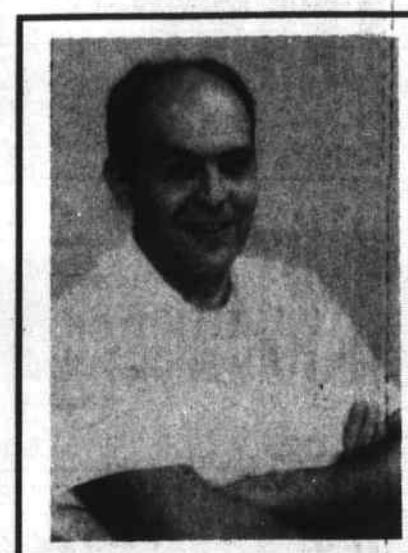

WILMINGTON - Rocco DePasquale was the first recipient of the "Good Guy Award" in Wilmington. This award was given to a man who was devoted to his family and community. Later he served as selectman from 1978 to 1987. Rocco was head of the Wilmington Drug Alliance, Chairman of the Board of Directors of Commercial Bank and Trust, and a member of the Board of Trustees of Tewksbury Hospital. In 1987, Rocco informed fellow selectman that he would not be seeking re-election.

When interviewed by Town Crier reporter Arlene Suprenant in January 1987 Rocco stated that "I'm still going to be around and available to people if they need me". It was a fitting statement from a man who continued to be a presence in his community.

At the 1998 Memorial Day parade, Rocco DePasquale was handing out lollipops to children. It was one of his last public appearances. Rocco DePasquale passed away June 7, 1998 at age 65.

There will be a show presented in memory of Rocco DePasquale on April 23, 1999 from 7:30 - Midnight at the Hillview Country Club, North Street, North Reading. All proceeds will go to the Wilmington Lion's Club Charity fund, and all donations from that fund will be made in his name. There will be dancing, light refreshments, and a show put on by "Masquerade". Tickets will be $20.00 and can be purchased from Matt Cane, at 978-658-2999. No tickets will be sold at the door.

Letters To The Editor

Candidates night a success, thanks to all

Dear Editor:
I would just like to thank the Tewksbury Democratic and Republican Committees for co-sponsoring Candidates' Night last Tuesday. And a special thanks to the Tewksbury High School students who ran the event in a debate format.

In an effort to make an informed decision it is always great to meet the candidates in person. I would hope that events such as these not only continue in the future, but also occur more frequently prior to election day. For those of you who were not able to attend, the event was video taped and re-broadcast on our local channel.

Thanks again!

Susan Duffy,
Tewksbury

Candidates night re-broadcast

Dear Editor:
The Candidates' Night sponsored by the Tewksbury Town Democratic and Republican Committees which took place Tuesday evening at the Tewksbury Public Library is being shown in its entirety on the Local Cable TV Channel 10.

The Candidates Night is being shown every day at 10 a.m., 4 and 8 p.m. until Town Election Day, April 10, 1999.

The Polls will be open on April 10 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Thank you for your help in this matter.

Warren R. Carey, Chairman
Tewksbury Town
Democratic Committee

Well done!

Dear Editor:
As residents of Tewksbury for over 40 years, we have seen the growth of the town by leaps and bounds. Recently a new police station, very much needed, the John Ryan School soon to open, also much needed. But we have to say as older residents of the town, the new Tewksbury Library is a plus.

In a peaceful setting, beautifully constructed with room to grow over the years to come, it is credit to the town. For those who worked so hard and the taxpayers who voted for it, certainly the results give us a great feeling of accomplishment. Well done!

Joan and John Dey

Preserve the Swain School

Dear Editor:
Article 40, the article that will be presented at Wilmington Town Meeting asks the voters of the Town of Wilmington to preserve and maintain the former Wilmington High School, known as the Swain School.

The building has served many generations of Wilmington citizens in the past and today it is a vital center of Wilmington Cable Television (WCTV) as well as an off-site police station.

Two elements of preservation are already in place: The Town of Wilmington had the wisdom to record the building with the Massachusetts Historical Commission, the State House, Boston. The building is in the Centre Village Historical District in Wilmington.

As stated the building presently is being used by the Police Department, but once the new Public Safety Building is complete and the Public Safety Officer call the off-site inspectors back to the unified building then the preservation can begin. In the new building time frame, the town professionals can prepare a proposal to receive Federal or State grants that are available for preservation of Historic Buildings in particular The Old Wilmington High.

I would ask that the voters of Wilmington support this preservation.

Sincerely,
Gerry O'Reilly

Tewksbury Hospital is a good neighbor

Dear Editor:
I am writing today to publicly thank the Tewksbury Hospital Campus Police for their assistance on Candidates' Night, March 30. Many groups and individuals contributed to the success of this event, but I wish to be certain that the efforts of those at the "State Hospital" are not overlooked.

Previous events held at the library had overflow parking on both sides of Hospital Road. Realizing that this event would also generate high interest and traffic, the Library Director Elisabeth Desmarais, contacted Hospital administrators. Instead of merely providing satellite parking, or some other partial solution, the Hospital agreed to take on the entire task of safely parking attendees. Using their own traffic control barrels, a state vehicle and two officers, they supplied parking and safe crossing for pedestrians.

We are grateful to all those at Tewksbury Hospital who didn't succumb to the attitude, "that's not my job!" Instead they assisted our patrons, the candidates and their supporters, and the library staff. I, for one, appreciate having that kind of neighbor.

Sincerely Patrick R. Carey

Come visit the New Wilmington Library

Dear Editor:
We would like to invite all of the residents of Wilmington to visit Wilmington Memorial Library. Although the exterior of the building is the same, this is not the library you may have stepped into several years ago.

This library is blossoming despite poor lighting, taped carpeting and insufficient space for books, computers, private study and meetings. The collections are drastically improved, the building is open many more hours, there are adult and children's programs, a book discussion group, movies, videos, books on tape, CDs, Internet access, professional librarians always available for assistance and a welcoming staff to serve the public.

And that's not all! April 11 begins National Library Week, and we encourage you to drop in to see why we work to support the library as it tries to meet the growing and changing needs of the town of Wilmington. As they say at the library, "Come on in - check us out!"

Political letter steps onto thin ice

Dear Editor:
The Tewksbury Youth Skating Association Board of Directors is exceptionally disappointed that you found it appropriate to print a letter authored by Gene Kee in which he made several accusations pertaining to Tewksbury Youth Skating Association Inc. (T.Y.S.A.).

T.Y.S.A. has a 12 member elected Board of Directors who execute the association's bylaws. Those bylaws were established by a majority vote of the association. Ed Doherty is one of numerous volunteers who were elected to the board of directors this past July. Failing to win a seat on the board, and not chosen to coach one of his children's teams, Gene Kee left the program and is no longer a member of our association.

The T.Y.S.A. Board of Directors did make some coaches changes early this season. Those are very difficult decisions and made solely with our youth in mind. Recently we also had the unpleasant task of suspending a coach for an on ice incident. When behavior degrades, or there is a significant infraction, we have a duty to take appropriate measures. Gene Kee who is not a member of our organization, inappropriately found it necessary to comment on those actions. He also made several other accusations. These are not new. He has been making those and others since the first time he ran for a T.Y.S.A. Board position. Each item has been investigated and dismissed long ago.

T.Y.S.A. is a large organization with numerous volunteers generously donating their time and energy to provide a quality program for our youth. Can we improve, always, and with the efforts of the many volunteers we will continue to do so.

Regards,
Joe Strong, Secretary
Tewksbury Youth Skating Association, Inc.

Please note: Ed Doherty did not solicit this letter, nor did he contribute to its content. This letter is not a political endorsement. The intent of this letter is to address the indirect accusations that Gene Kee made pertaining to this organization.

Joe Strong

Miceli endorses Doherty for Tewksbury School Committee

To the residents of Tewksbury:

I am proud to endorse Ed Doherty for School Committee of Tewksbury. Ed should be reelected because of his hard work and dedication to his elected position. He is constantly in contact with me to discuss issues of education policy, reform and funding. He is practical and demanding. He always represents the best interest of your town and your children.

I enjoy working with Ed because he always speaks his mind. He has the courage to say "No," even when it is politically unpopular. Believe me, no one can please all of the people all of the time. He may seem impatient, but I understood the long term impact of his decisions. He has made tremendous gains for your town and your children.

Recently, I handed the deed to a parcel of state land to your town for the construction of a new skating rink. This marked the beginning of a marvelous project for the Tewksbury Youth Skating Association, and its president, Ed Doherty. I know how hard Ed has worked on this project already, and I was so happy to deliver the nine acres of land to a man so enthusiastic about his town and its children.

Ed Doherty is a strong advocate for Tewksbury and its children. Please vote in this important Town election, Saturday April 10. Thank you.

State Representative,
Jim Miceli

Applications available

Tewksbury Rotary scholarships

TEWKSBURY - The Rotary Club of Tewksbury will award four college scholarships of $1,000.00 each to seniors graduating in the Class of 1999 who plan to continue their education at an accredited four year college. Applicants must be Tewksbury residents in order to apply. Applicants may attend any public or private high school. There is no requirement that the applicant be related to any Rotarian.

Award recipients will be selected on the basis of scholastic achievement, leadership and financial need.

Guidelines for the scholarship are included in the application packet. Applications are now available from guidance offices at area high schools where Tewksbury students are known to attend and at Tewksbury's Public Library. The application packet, including supplementary materials, must be postmarked no later than Monday, May 10, 1999.

Announcement of awards will be made in late May or early June; a check for the awarded amount will be paid to each recipient at a Rotary Club luncheon, upon verification of the applicant's acceptance and enrollment at an accredited college for the fall semester of 1999.

Rotary is an international organization devoted to community service. This year, funds for this annual scholarship program have been appropriated from proceeds from the Tewksbury Rotary's third annual spring concert featuring Keith Lockhart and the Boston Pops Esplanade Orchestra.

Board of Health investigating cancer cluster

help with that," Representative Jim Miceli said. "I will call the Commissioner tomorrow." He also said he would like to see the water tested as well, especially the water that supplies houses on dead-end streets because it may remain in the pipes for extended periods of time. "I'm curious to see what it reads," he added. "It will take time to get all the figures together," said Board of Health Chairman James Ficociello. "We are very concerned. It's tough to wait, but that's what we have to do. We will move as fast as possible." He said the question is whether the occurrence is a coincidence or a problem and that there is a need to find out why and what to do for the short and long term. "[I hope] cooperative efforts continue between the staff and the people," Ficociello added.

"We're very concerned," said Joanne Jordan a resident of Brand Ave. "My 5 year old was diagnosed with ALL December 24th, 1997." She said that she was extremely impressed and happy with what the Board is doing. She wants the Board to continue their investigation. "Something is wrong. There are too many kids [with leukemia]." Frank Previtt, Joanne's husband, reiterated his wife's concerns. "My boy was diagnosed on Christmas Eve. It was very difficult for us. It's put a strain on us, on everything." He is concerned about the health of all the children, not just his own. "They deserve to have a healthy life. No child wants to be in a hospital. Don't destroy their childhood, give them a chance to make their own choices," Previtt added. Chemotherapy is not something to look forward to, especially for a 5 year old child. "[The Board] has a lot of power to enact [and enforce] the laws and regulations. There are toxic emissions in the neighborhood. It is a health issue," Wilmington resident Tracy Peterson said. "I think the Board should take a stronger stand [to eliminate cancer]."

"It is better to prevent a disease rather than cure it," said Bruce McNeil, another Brand Ave. resident. "Toxic pollution affects everyone. I think the Board can take a stronger approach to help the kids."

The residents indicated that this problem has been going on for years and that it spreads beyond the area. "There are 72 dump sites in Wilmington," said resident George D'Amelio. He believes the Board should enact the laws more fervently. "My son was diagnosed in '95. Is it the water? I don't know."

Ficociello said that cancer is a cumulative disease. He said that it can have multiple causes and that it is unlike an infectious disease, which is acute and epidemiological. The Board was asked if independent testing could be done so that it could be compared to any testing done by the industries in the area. "[We applied] for the TAG (technical assistance grant)," Erickson said, to sample wells, but that grant was denied. He did add that some of the wells have special monitoring equipment and give "live time evaluation" of the water pumped out. "We'll work to find some money for that," Ficociello said. He believes it is a worthwhile project.

"[We] passed the information on to the state. [I want to] stress that we need your [the public's] input," said Michael Woodhouse. Erickson said that the DPH promised to start soon and have the finished report sent to the Board by the summer. The testing will include water as well as soil and air sampling.

last month.

Newhouse said the town must find a balance between open space and industry in order to finance its future.

"A solid commercial tax base will be important when the economy slows down," Newhouse said. The candidates were also asked their opinion of replacing or renovating aging buildings.

McCoy and Beninati both opposed large capital improvement projects, and the proposition two and a half override which would accompany them, in the wake of the town's first such projects in 40 years: the proposed Public Safety Building, and the under-construction Middle School.

McCoy said he supports maintenance of buildings, such as replacing roofs and boilers, to extend an aging buildings life.

"I don't see any more capital projects for a while, I don't think they're necessary," McCoy said.

Beninati was skeptical that the town even needed a new school, and recommended that the town look towards improving its existing schools.

Newhouse was not opposed to new capital projects, such as a fire substation, a new library, and a new town hall which he felt were all worth doing.

"It's the board's obligation to explore the necessity and cost of any prospective improvements," Newhouse said.

Nelson was not in favor of a proposition two and a half override, but felt the town should renovate or construct a new library. He suggested funding construction or renovation by soliciting donations from the major businesses located in the town.

In regards to where they would like more money to be spent, McCoy and Newhouse said education, Nelson said daycare and affordable housing.

McCoy and Newhouse said while they served as a selectmen, the schools have received an extra $1 million in funds. McCoy said the schools were important, because children were the future of the community. Newhouse said the schools must update their technologies to bring their systems into the 21st century.

Nelson said the town should be aggressive in funding affordable housing, and should seek to create their own over-55 housing project (for people over 55 years old). In addition, he felt an extended daycare program would be extended to the Shawsheen School.

In regards to fluoridation of the towns water supply, Beninati said he opposed it because it was just another excuse to tax residents, and it would add another harmful chemical to the public water supply.

"People get enough fluoride from their daily cleansing," Beninati said.

Nelson and Newhouse said more information needed to be obtained, and McCoy said he unequivocally supported fluoridation of the town's water. He based his opinion on information he obtained from dentists and other specialists, and the habits of other communities.

"All the towns surrounding Wilmington add fluoride to their water supply," McCoy said. "They must have a reason for it, we don't live in the dark ages."

Part three in series

the same shall be raised whether by taxation, transfer, borrowing or any combination thereof; or do anything in relation thereto.

This article requests additional funds for the completion of the Public Safety Building. There are two reasons costs rose on the project.

A "space needs study" determined the original design for the proposed Public Safety Building, at the corner of Church and Adelaide streets, was too small to house both the Police and Fire departments. As a result the plans were revised, and the building will be expanded to 36,000 square feet, which is one-and-a-half times the size of the originally proposed building.

In addition, site-issues have delayed the project for a year, which also raised the costs of the project.

The amount being sought by this article has not been specified, and will be determined at a time nearer to the town meeting.

According to Town Manager Mike Caira, the town has sufficient funds available in its current budget to continue planning for the Public Safety Building project. The town will not have to ask for debt exclusion.

Article 27

To see if the Town will vote to transfer a sum of money from the Main Street Sewer Account which was appropriated at the Annual Town Meeting of April 22, 1989, for the purpose of providing additional Engineering Services for the Route 38 Corridor Sewer Project, being a similar project of an equal or longer period of time, all in accordance with General Laws Chapter 44; or do anything in relation thereto.

This is a routine transfer article. The project related to the Main Street Sewer Account has been completed, and the residual funds in the account can be used "for a like purpose."

The Route 38 Corridor Sewer Project will run a sewer and water line from Bridge Lane to the town center, and will also extend down Middlesex Avenue to serve the new Public Safety Building. The project was amended to be more environmentally sensitive, and additional funding is required to pay for these amendments.

This article will require no additional taxation to the residents of Wilmington.

Article 28

To see if the Town will vote to amend the action taken in Article 21 as contained in the warrant for the Annual Town Meeting held on April 27, 1996 which authorized the Town to borrow, under the provisions of General Laws Chapter 44, the sum of $1,000,000 for the design and construction of a raw water main from the Shawsheen Avenue wellfield to the Butters Row Water Treatment Plant including all appropriate pumping station upgrades by rescinding such authorization to borrow; or do anything in relation thereto.

In 1996, Town Meeting authorized the town to borrow $1 million to construct a raw water main from the Shawsheen Avenue wellfield to Butters Row. But the town ended up not needing the money.

The project was completed within the confines of the town's water department budget.

"It's a pretty positive article, we were able to do the work without the need to borrow," Town Manager Mike Caira said. "And during this time, we even lowered the town's water rates."

Article 30

To see if the Town will vote to direct the Board of Health to investigate the fluoridation of the Town's water supply in accordance with Massachusetts General Law Chapter 111, Section 8c; or do anything in relation thereto.

The Board of Health submitted this article to determine what course they should pursue regarding the fluoridation of the town's water supply.

Proponents said fluoridation of the town water would provide residents with a cheap and easily accessible means of fighting tooth decay.

Opponents said fluoride could be toxic, and inclusion of fluoride in the water supply takes away their freedom to choose whether or not they want fluoride.

Over the past several weeks, some residents have expressed concern over a proposal to fluoridate the town water. If the Board of Health eventually does fluoridate the water, the opponents have 90 days to submit a petition including signatures of 10 percent of registered town voters, in order to force a referendum vote.

Article 31

To see if the Town will vote to authorize the Board of Selectmen to accept as a gift, purchase or take by Right of Eminent Domain, for the purpose of highway drainage, an easement over, under, on and through the land now or formerly of Frances G. Dec, 205 Salem Street, at the location as shown on a plan prepared by the Town Engineer and on file in the office of the Town Clerk, and to install drainage and do all acts incidental thereto and further to appropriate any sum of money therefor; or do anything in relation thereto.

Problems regarding a drain by 205 Salem Street have created flooding problems in the area, including large puddles on Salem Street. Because the town does not have an easement for the drain, repairs can not be made on it.

The town requests the taking of this 20 foot by 50 foot easement so the drain can be properly maintained. The drain has not received routine maintenance since it was installed approximately 30 years ago.

There have also been problems regarding the blockage of the drain by unidentified parties.

Article 32

To see if the Town will vote to authorize the Board of Selectmen to petition the state legislature to amend General Law Chapter 40A, Section 3 and 5 in such a manner which shall serve to strengthen a municipality's local control over the siting of a child care facility; or do anything in relation thereto.

The Board of Selectmen asked for this article be prepared, which instructs the legislature to look into the town's control of child care facilities.

Child care facilities are exempt from normal zoning laws, and can locate in neighborhoods because they are not subject to the same controls as other businesses.

Last year, residents in the vicinity of the Gingerbread House daycare facility, located on Crystal Road in a residential neighborhood, complained about the volume of cars the business attracted.

Article 33

See related sign story.

Article 40

To see if the Town will vote to instruct the Board of Selectmen to preserve and maintain that building known as the Swain School to be used as a Cultural Center in the Wilmington Historical District; or do anything in relation thereto.

This article would have the town care for the Swain School as a historical landmark in the town's Historical District.

Town Manager Mike Caira opposed the project, and said the building is not suited for renovation. He added that the Historical Commission does not support the article.

"It's pouring good money down the drain," Caira said. "It's not the best use of that land."

The Swain School currently houses the police detective bureau, and WCTV.

Article 42

To see if the Town will vote to authorize the Board of Selectmen to petition the General Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to amend and revise its present Town Charter and By-Laws of the Inhabitants of the Town of Wilmington pursuant to Article 89 of the Amendments to the Constitution and General Laws Chapter 43B and Chapter 41, Section 81A of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to a new Town Charter that creates and establishes a Charter Commission and Planning Board to be elected by the voters of the Town of Wilmington and further requests that a question appear on the ballot at the polls of the next presidential election to be held in November of the year 2000, and the form of the question shall be substantially as follows:

"Shall this Town of Wilmington approve the new amended and revised Town Charter as recommended by the Charter Commission summarized below?" Yes or no; or do anything in relation thereto.

This article would make the Planning Board, which is currently appointed by the Town Manager, into an elected board.

Mark Nelson, who submitted the article, said this would ensure the Planning Board was appointed based on their merits, and not on the special interests of the Town Manager.

If approved, it would place a question on the ballot for the 2000 elections, asking if a committee should be convened to redraw the town charter. This commission would be expected to change the town charter to make the Planning Board an elected body.

Nelson said the town would benefit from having an elected planning board, because it would put the decision in the hands of the town's 14,000 registered voters, as opposed to only the Town Manager.

In addition, Nelson pointed out that members such as Carole Hamilton, who recently stepped down from the board after 17 years of service, would not be allowed such long tenures, which put the Planning Board members "out of touch" with the people and issues they are dealing with.

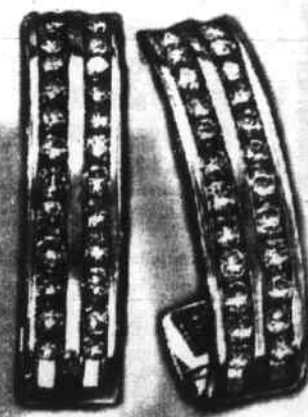

Under the current system, Nelson said the town manager and the town government appoint people to the Planning Board based on special interests.

Caira questioned why politicizing the Planning Board was important to town government.

The Planning Board is opposed to this article, because it would eliminate the opportunity to have a balanced Planning Board, and would have membership based on a "popularity contest" and not on the candidates' qualifications.

In addition, the Planning Board said many people would not run for the board due to the expense and time involved.

Shawsheen School fields may be rebuilt

and junior varsity soccer teams, which practiced and played on the Shawsheen School fields during their previous season in the fall of last year, will play on the newly renovated Woburn Street School soccer fields.

"We rebuilt [the Woburn Street School fields] just for the girls soccer teams," Gillis said.

Unfortunately for the Wilmington Youth Soccer Association (WYSA), answers won't come so easily.

On Saturdays during the fall season, all the recreation teams, and half of the travel teams play their games at the Shawsheen fields. The other half of the travel teams play their games at "away" fields.

According to WYSA president Bill Dilworth, a patchwork approach will be taken to provide playing time for the 1,100 kids, from kindergarten through grade eight, who are members of the WYSA's 17 travel teams and 70 recreational teams during the fall season.

Dilworth said the travel teams would probably play all their games at opponents venues in the fall, while the recreational teams would have to rent field space at an alternate local venue or venues.

A number of solutions are being pursued, involving both the public and the private sector, Dilworth said.

These teams require four small-sided, 60 by 40 yard fields. Options may include renting time at nearby fields owned by Tectron or Austin Prep. The WYSA has portable goals which allow it to use fields like Tectron's, which are not equipped for soccer.

The greatest inconvenience the WYSA expects is to have to rotate fields throughout the season, as they become available. In addition, play may be split between two days, so that participants in kindergarten through grade four will play on Saturdays, while those in grades five through eight will play on Sunday's.

"It's all very preliminary," Dilworth said. "But the league will remain intact, and we'll make it run as regularly as possible."

Wilmington shouldn't become Asphaltville.

Wilmington's future is in jeopardy because the state wants to make Wilmington Center a massive parking lot and pave over our dreams and our community pride with tons of asphalt. In the process, small businesses will be shut down and our town center will never be the same again. Selectman Mike McCoy knows we can do better. Mike McCoy voted against the destruction of Wilmington Center. Mike McCoy will lead the fight at town meeting for a resolution to preserve our quality of life and the character of our community.

Selectman Mike McCoy is the only candidate in this election who is opposed to the parking lot project.

McCoy seeks re-election to Wilmington Board of Selectman

WILMINGTON - It is with great excitement and expectation that I formally announce my candidacy for reelection to the office of the Wilmington Board of Selectmen.

Once again, I choose to offer myself for this office with an understanding of the demands of the office and a clear vision of how I believe Wilmington should proceed toward the year 2000.

I believe expansion without explanation and an attitude which favors development over neighborhoods at all costs is shortsighted and irrational.

The neighborhoods of Wilmington and the people who occupy them, deserve to understand that the expanded continued growth of our town is conducted in a rational and sensitive manner. My three years on the Wilmington Planning Board, along with my current nine years as a member of the Wilmington Board of Selectmen and my advocacy of this position at Town Meeting and at Board of Selectmen meetings has brought forth support from friends and neighborhoods alike.

During my nine years as a selectman, I have always made myself available to the residents and taxpayers of Wilmington. I truly believe that the people in this town who foot the bill want a voice of reason. I believe I have been that voice. I led the fight against the development of 5,000 square foot lots, so that we could protect our natural resources, and try to maintain Wilmington as the New England setting it should be.

As Chairman of the Board of Selectmen in 1994, I set forward as my top priority to reopen the Boutwell School as a kindergarten. The Boutwell opened that fall of 1994; on time, on budget, and with NO Proposition 2 1/2 override.

I'm the only candidate in this election to be opposed to the construction of a parking lot in Wilmington Town Center.

Together we have accomplished a lot, but there is still much more to do.

I am 40 years old and have lived in Wilmington all of these 40 years. I am very happily married and have three young children. I hope to see them make their roots in Wilmington, too.

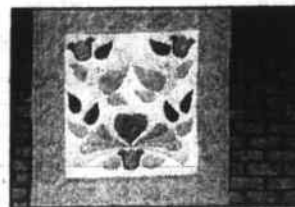

As a graduate of Wilmington public schools, the University of Lowell and a holder of a Master's degree, I believe that I am educationally qualified for the post I seek. But education means nothing if it is not linked to a commitment of one's community. As a member of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, Sons of Italy, Tewksbury/Wilmington Elks, MBTA Advisory Board, and as a local merchant, I have stayed committed to my community.

Over the course of the next decade, issues such as infrastructure repair, safe water and sewer services, expansion of youth and elderly services and, of course, the issue of development will touch all of our lives.

Together, we can ensure a quality of life for ourselves and our children benefiting all those who care about our community. This is my goal and pledge to you as your

Wilmington Senior Topics

WILMINGTON - Welcome to the month of April and to the beginning of spring. This month will prove to be a very active one. The Center is having several informational and social events.

I have received several calls concerning the new prescription plans with HMO's and how it will effect a large group of people. The Senior Center has arranged to have representatives from First Seniority and Secure Horizons to speak on the recent changes and how they will effect you. This gives everyone the opportunity to ask questions directly of the HMO's. There will also be handouts on the other resources in our community.

One exciting event the Center has planned for April is the Volunteer Luncheon at the center on April 21 at 12:30 p.m. Anyone who has volunteered to an elder in the community or has participated in assisting the Senior Center's functions or weekly programs, please call the Center or drop by to give your names. We want to make sure everyone is acknowledged for all their help and support. All volunteers are a vital part of the Senior Center and are extremely appreciated for all their dedicated services.

On April 14, at 1 p.m. the Center will be entertained by an outstanding opera singer, Ruth Harcovitz. She is often referred to as the "female Pavarotti," giving joy with her beautiful voice and warm personality everywhere she goes. She is a New England Conservatory graduate. She studied in Europe at the Vienna Academy of Music. Upon her return to the United States, she was engaged by the Santa Fe Opera, the Opera Company of Boston and Opera New England. She has appeared as soloist with choral societies and orchestras.

This program is sponsored by the Wilmington Cultural Council, a local agency of the Massachusetts Cultural Council.

Lastly, we will be having a Spring Fling at the Knights of Columbus Hall on April 28. The event will start at 6 p.m. There will be dinner and dancing. The entertainment will be by Chet Harden. Dinner will be at 6:30. Sign-up is on April 9 at 10 a.m., cost is $4, non-refundable.

Political sign by-law

First amendment violation?

size and location of which shall not serve to obstruct the sight of motorists and pedestrians using or occupying the public ways and/or the right of access thereto.

The Board of Selectmen asked for this article to be prepared, to clarify and eliminate the confusion surrounding the sign by-law.

This article would revise the sign by-law so all residents have equal rights of political expression. It removes the distance restriction on signs, because for some residents 25 feet from the roads is in their living rooms. It also removes the stipulation that signs must be placed away from paved roads, because it discriminates against residents of unpaved roads.

But the sign by-law still has its critics. Many in town have challenged the sign by-law, and said it should be revoked because it violates free speech rights.

Last year Mark Nelson and Town Counsel Alan Altman, in addition to representatives from the American Civil Liberties Union and the Attorney General's office, met with the clerk magistrate at the District Courthouse in Woburn, Nelson said. According to Nelson, the meetings led to the town's decision to amend the political sign by-law.

According to Town Manager Mike Caira, the current sign by-law is not being enforced "to the letter of the law" by police, on the advice of Town Counsel Alan Altman, until the matter is clarified by a town meeting vote.

Last year, police used tape measures to determine if the by-laws size and setback distance provisions were obeyed.

"We're hoping the candidates will follow the town by-law as it stands," said Deputy Chief Bernard Nally. "But we won't enforce restrictions on it."

Facts about America's Libraries

The American Library Association

tion reports the following statistics about America's Libraries:

- *Americans go to school, public and academic libraries three times as often as they go to the movies.
- *Reference librarians in the nation's public and academic libraries answer more than seven million questions weekly. Standing single file, the line of questioners would stretch from Boston to San Francisco.
- *Federal spending on libraries totals only 54 cents per person - less than two postage stamps.
- *A 1998 poll conducted by Gallup for the American Library Association found that nearly all respondents expect libraries to be needed in the future, despite the increase availability of information via computer.

Bookends

Bookends, the library's book discussion group, met April 1 to discuss A Perfect Storm by Sebastian Unger. All seven members gave this book a thumbs up. The next book that we discussed is Lincoln by Gore Vidal. Copies are available at the library's main circulation desk. Bookends will be developing a new roster of books to read.

Wilmingtonites converge 180 strong

Saturday, March 20, saw over 180 Wilmington folks meet on a wooded point of land by the Gulf of Mexico at Fred Howard Park in Tarpon Springs, FL.

Some came from as far away as Montana and Louisiana, while many still live in Wilmington and spend only winters or vacations in Florida. Yet others now live in the warm south and take this opportunity to meet with old friends and neighbors.

This year the weather was perfect. In fact one would think the local Chamber of Commerce had ordered the day - warm in the sun, cool in the shade and not a cloud in the sky.

Diamond centers around these shortstops

Peter Grasso: not too many are like him

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

There's not too many kids like Peter Grasso.

There's not too many baseball players like Grasso either.

So poised, so in love with the game of baseball, so good with the glove and the bat, Grasso was a major factor in the baseball team's ride to the Eastern Mass. finals last spring and he is the team's premier player to hopefully get them back there.

"In reality it'll be tough to get back there," he admitted. "Last year we came so close and it was heartbreaking," he said of the 5-1 loss to Bishop Stang. "But it was great, winning our section and accomplishing something that hadn't been done in twenty years."

"If we don't get back there in my senior year, I won't have a problem with that because I know that my class did what no other class could do in the last twenty years. But if we play as a team and to the best of our abilities, we can get back there."

Grasso broke into the varsity level as a freshman when then shortstop Billy Harrison was injured. Grasso secured the middle infield spot as if he was a senior. Now three years later, Grasso is one of the better shortstops around, covering more ground, turning the double play as beautiful as any high school kid could and being a tremendous fighter at the plate as the team's lead-off hitter. Last year he clubbed .422, driving pitchers crazy with his great eye, while making the fielders run ways with his gap shots.

"I went to a few camps last year and they worked with me on my stance, grip and swing. They did a lot of soft toss drills and I just did a lot of hitting at Strike One (in Burlington)," he said. "With the line-up we have, especially one through five, we should score a lot of runs."

It didn't start off all that well for Wilmington and Grasso in particular at the start of last season. Grasso was injured his entire sophomore season and it took him a while to get into the groove of things. In the team's first game against Tewksbury, he made three errors as the team coughed up a lead in the late innings. The team lost the opener and its second game, while Grasso had just one hit in his first ten at-bats.

"Yeah I was pretty bad," he said. "I usually don't get nervous, but then I was. But after going 1-for-10, I hit in ten straight games and I got my confidence back."

While hitting safely in his next 10 games, Grasso finished the regular season very strong earning him a spot on the all-star team. He really pressed through the first two play-off games, struggling, but in the third game, a win over Rockport, he really ignited the team with a double off the high chained link fence to start the game off and then a three-run homer off the right field fence later on. With his bat, and Scott Swiezynski's arm, the 'Cats were onto the Eastern Mass. finals against Bishop Stang, who eventually won the state championship on the Fenway Park grass.

Down 4-0 in that game in the bottom of the sixth, Grasso got the team going with a single, and he eventually scored the only run as Wilmington squandered several other players in scoring position.

That's what Grasso does best: pours every ounce of energy on the field, not because he is infatuated with the game, but because that's the way he is.

"It just comes naturally to me. I can't picture my life without baseball. I'm going to cherish every game I have left here, and I'm looking forward to continue to play in college." Currently, Grasso is looking to further his education with a business major as he has been accepted to Bryant, Merrimack, UMass-Lowell and St. Anselm's, but is undecided as of yet but likes Bryant which resides in Rhode Island.

Grasso's head coach Dick Scanlon has always, always spoke very highly of his shortstop but on Tuesday afternoon he was unavailable for comment as he stayed home from a scrimmage against Malden Catholic as he was ill. Scanlon loves Grasso's style, his approach, his mentality, his soft hands, his ability to turn the quick double play, his enthusiasm, leadership and strive to succeed. He has repeatedly said that in the past.

And if you watch Grasso for even an inning, you can see all of that, his strong pivot, throwing arm and his glowing personality on his sleeve.

Melissa Wolfe hopes to thrive in new position

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Much like Peter Grasso of the baseball team, Melissa Wolfe earned a spot on the varsity roster as a freshman thanks to an injury and has stayed put every since.

But Wolfe's opportunity to shine wasn't on opening day; it was in the first round of the state tournament.

"I was scared to death," she said. "I was playing second base and I remember I didn't cover first base on a bunt (in the first inning). I was so nervous."

Since then Wolfe has become a very steady player, switching positions around every season, while becoming a very big threat with her bat and her legs as she has exceptional speed.

This year she moves into the shortstop role, after seasons of being a second baseman and a designated hitter.

"They went pretty far that season (to the North Sectionals) and the more games they won the less I played," she laughed about her inaugural season.

From a petrified freshman who came up to the big club during the most pressured time of the season, Wolfe has come along way since forgetting to cover first base on a bunt. In fact, as one of a few true left hand hitters to start that way with head coach Paul Lyman, Wolfe's multi-dimensional offensive skills should really give the team a much needed boost.

"We want to make it past the first round of the tournament, it's a curse now," she said chuckling. "I don't know if we were expecting too much or what happened, but we really think we can go pretty far this year."

From a season and a half at second base, Wolfe was the team's D.H. last year and this season she moves to the one of the hardest positions in the field, shortstop.

"It's tougher because the throws are longer," she said. "There's more ground to cover and the longer throws has been the toughest adjustment, but I played a little shortstop in (youth softball) so it's not that bad."

As one of four captains along with Emily King, Amanda Lojek and Kristen Walsh, Wolfe likes the divided role of being a leader.

"That's awesome, because all of us always has something to say," she said.

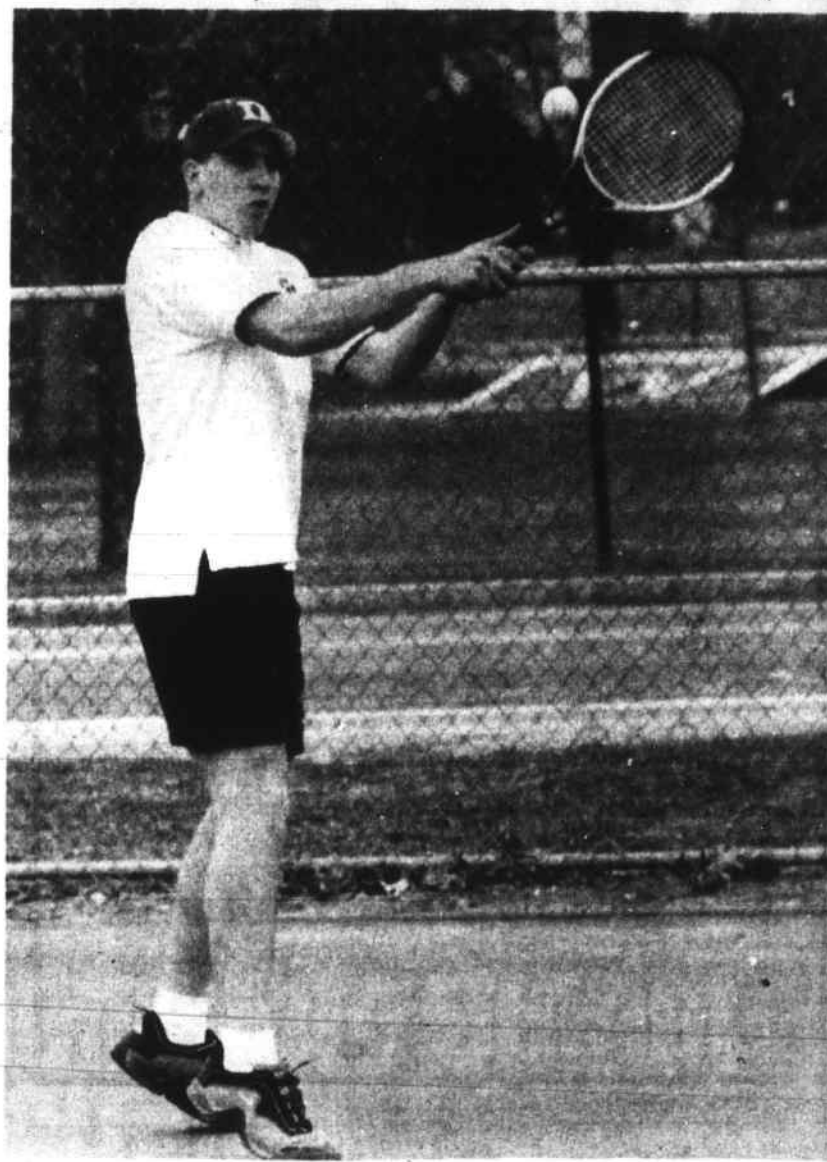

Not only will Wolfe change positions this year, but as of right now she will move down two slots in the batting order to the most prolific one, number three.

"(Lyman) really hasn't had me slap or bunt that much in the scrimmages," said Wolfe. "But it's up to us, he tells us that if the third baseman is back that we can choose to drag bunt or slap if we want. But like hitting, I like that he's letting me get up there and seeing what I can do."

With several key members gone from last year due to graduation, this year's team is younger and a little less experienced. But with Wolfe anchoring a new infield, it shouldn't take long for those inexperienced players to join Wolfe as an elite player.

Golfers Corner At Tewksbury Country Club

"As we come upon the first 'Major' event on the PGA Tour, The 'Masters' at Augusta National, it symbolizes the official start of the golf season. This is evident here at Tewksbury C. C. as golfers are eagerly getting their first rounds in for the season all working towards accomplishing their personal goals. Many will seek golf lessons to help them along the way. Private lessons are the best way to learn the game because of the one-on-one attention you will receive. Beginners will seek group lessons for the exposure to the game because group clinics are a cost-effective way to start learning this game. Now, if have already been to a group clinic, going back to the same clinic won't be as beneficial to you as a series of private lessons would be. A series of 4 - 1/2 hour lessons here at Tewksbury cost $100 and they are one-on-one lessons. Also available are playing lessons where course strategies, club selection and shot making is covered. This is the way to go if your score seems to have bottomed out and you just can't get to the next level. Give me a call so we can discuss how the benefits of instruction will help you achieve your personal goals playing this great game called Golf. Golf Tip: The terms "Pitching & Chipping" are used often in golf but few know the difference between the two shots. Chipping is basically putting from off the green with a club that has loft. The proper Chip will carry ONLY the rough, land on the greens' edge and roll the entire distance to the pin. You will need to use different clubs in your bag depending on how much Roll you have to the pin. Pitching is the shot that you use a lofted club (pitching to lob wedge) where you need to carry over a larger area of rough or a bunker, but the pin is tight to the edge of the green. The tough thing to learn about pitching is how hard to swing on those distances that are less than a full swing. Will a little practice and guidance you can lower your score and maximize your enjoyment of this game.

Correira enjoys ride to Frozen Four

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

While most of us watched the fantastic game on television, Tewksbury's Mike Correira was a part of the Frozen Four in Anaheim, California last week.

Although Correira wasn't on the ice when the University of Maine scored a goal in overtime to prevail to the National Collegiate Athletic Association Hockey Championship game, the pain still is felt for the back-up goaltender.

"It was a great ride, it really was," he said of the 3-2 loss in the semi-finals to the eventual national champions. "It was just the bounce of the puck and it could have gone either way."

After two seasons as a back-up, Correira had the number one job to lose as a junior, but he got hurt in a charity game pulling his hamstring. It was then when Scott Clemmensen got the nod and never relinquished his post including to the semi-final loss where he played tremendous.

"When I played (four games, 1-0-0) I played well, it just wasn't often enough. I understand the coach's decision, you have a hot goalie and you stay with him."

"It was tough because I could have gone to other schools and been there starting goalie."

"But I also could have gone somewhere else and gotten hurt too."

From that standpoint it was frustrating because I had my chance and I got hurt. But it was bitter-sweet, I also had a lot of fun being part of the team."

Correira, a former Avon Hills goaltender who led his high school team to two state championship games, winning one of them, said he mostly played in mop up time, but played pretty good earlier in the season when the team lost to UNH in a regular season game. He also got an assist in that game, playing the puck and moving it forward to a teammate who blasted it home.

Home, Correira was not this past week, as he was 3,000 miles away from his friendly confines of Beacon Hill or Tewksbury. Although a spectator from the bench, Correira saw his teammates beat Northern Michigan and North Dakota before bowing out against UMaine in one of the better collegiate games to be remembered.

"It's tough, it really is because we have been so close two years now," he said. "But our coach (Jerry York) pointed out (on Monday) that UNH was the (Hockey East) league champ, we were the playoff champion and UMaine was the national champion. Not bad for three New England teams."

"It could have been worse, we could have lost in the first round."

Tewksbury native Mike Correira in action this year for the Boston College men's ice hockey team.

Wilmington native Lisa Southmayd poses with her coach, Mark Vellieux of Endicott College, last year after she was named a M.V.P. of a tournament.

Southmayd shines in new position

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Lisa Southmayd has never backed down from adversity.

Back in 1994, she had the tough task of being a freshman catcher on a reigning state championship team who entered that season with all but three starters back. That season Southmayd was nothing short of sensational, helping the team to its second straight state championship as she instantly became one of the most feared catchers and one of the better all-around players in the Merrimack Valley Conference.

Last year Southmayd again was a freshman for the Endicott College women's softball program. Immediately she paid dividends for them, as she took a Most Valuable Trophy in one of their tournaments as she split time as a catcher and an infielder.

Through 16 games this season, Southmayd is one of the team's best hitters, while she changed positions to shortstop. And she is doing quite well in her new position.

"Lisa has done a great job, she is a real leader in our infield," said head coach Mark Vellieux. "When a ball is hit to our infielders, there is no one I want it to go to than Lisa."

"She's very intelligent and she always makes the right play."

Although Vellieux recruited her as a catcher, he said he was most impressed with her athleticism.

"We have an outstanding catcher and since Lisa is such a good athlete I knew I could put her anywhere on the field besides pitcher and she would do very well."

"She hasn't played shortstop since the eighth grade, but already she has proved a lot."

Before Monday's double victory over Framingham State in a doubleheader, Southmayd was batting .333, as she was third in the team in hits with 14, first with six doubles and tied for first with 10 RBI. She bats out of the number three hole, and even she admits the toughest adjustment from high school ball to collegiate ball is the pitching.

"Yeah the pitching is much better and (the season) takes up more time," said Southmayd. "We have doubleheaders (Tuesday), Thursday, Friday and Sunday."

"Our team is really good, we only lost one senior and we have a lot of good freshman."

As for the switch of positions, Southmayd said she doesn't mind, as long as she plays. "I caught for one pitcher last year, and (the transition to shortstop) wasn't that tough because I played there before."

"At first it was tough, but I think I know what I'm doing now. I like shortstop because it's different, but I like both positions."

Local golf courses

Trull Brook, TCC gearing up for season

By PAUL HAYES

Spring has sprung, and clubs have swung.

Both Tewksbury Country Club and the Trull Brook Golf Course are geared up for the upcoming golf season, and both clubs feature improvements made during the off-season.

In it's second year, the nine-hole Tewksbury Country Club has made it's course more challenging to local golfers.

Club Pro Arty Gendreau said the most significant changes are on the fourth and fifth holes. The fourth hole was extended by 60 yards, and the fifth was extended 30 yards, to what Gendreau called "championship length."

"It will add more challenge for the big hitters," Gendreau said.

This marks the first full year for Tewksbury Country Club, which opened in July of last year. Upcoming improvements to the course include the construction of a clubhouse, although there are no plans to build the clubhouse in the near future.

Tewksbury Country Club is a public course, but there is a dress code requiring collared shirts, and prohibiting unhemmed, cutoff shorts.

In it's 36th year, the 18-hole Trull Brook Golf Course has also made some changes - to their clubhouse.

This year the course features a newly remodeled pro-shop, which has been what part-owner Bill Trull calls "modernized."

In addition, Trull Brook has electric golf carts, which are quieter than their gas powered predecessors. Trull said electric carts used to be impractical and unreliable, but now they are computerized to let drivers know how much battery power remains.

But there will be no changes to the course, Trull said.

Rates for Tewksbury Country Club this year are $13 for nine holes during the week, and $15 for nine holes on the weekends. Play is run on a first come first serve basis during the week, but reservations may be made up to two days ahead for the weekends. The number for the club is 640-0033.

Trull Brook Golf Course is also a public course, and rates are $35 for 18 holes, and $18 for nine holes during the week; on weekends (Fri., Sat. and Sun.) the rates are bumped up to $38.50 for 18 holes and $24 for nine holes (nine hole rounds tee off starting at 3 p.m. on the weekends).

Starting in May, reservations may be made for the course seven days a week up to seven days in advance.

IS THERE REALLY ANOTHER BUYER FOR YOUR HOUSE?

You just received a call from a Realtor who wants to show your house later in the day. You run around doing last-minute cleanup before the agent arrives with the client. What should you do then? Take a walk or go for a drive!

It is difficult for an agent or a prospective buyer to deal with a "helpful" seller who wants to make sure that nothing is missed. If the owners follow the Realtor through the house, listening to every word--and elaborating on everything, it will be difficult for the buyers to envision the house as their own. Buyers go through a process which involves raising objections that the Realtor can help them work through. If the owners are present, the buyers may feel inhibited because they don't want to offend them. The owner may appear overly anxious to sell and send signals that could result in a lower offer than they might have made otherwise.

Both tennis teams off the ball

Jess Martin

Sports Correspondent

Both the boys and girls tennis teams are off to a rocky start this season. Both teams are 0-3, but that isn't really the point at all.

Tennis is one of those sports that everyone claims to know all about but nobody really understands.

And to be perfectly honest here, tennis is not and has never been a huge sport in Wilmington.

"Moving to Cape Ann League has killed any hope that Wilmington had at being a contender," said a tennis player who wished to remain nameless.

Since moving into Cape Ann League Wilmington tennis teams have suffered considerably. Thus far this season, both teams are winless, while, winning sets haven't come often either.

The Wilmington teams are forced to contend with other teams like Lynnfield and Masconomet, who can afford for their players to play all year around. It simply isn't that way in Wilmington.

Nevertheless Wilmington is determined to compete against these teams whether or not anyone comes to our matches. Both teams, as mentioned before, aren't off to great starts, however, things look as if they may be getting easier as the season progresses.

Triton, Rockport and Amesbury who players don't all have their individual private coaches.

Long time veteran boys coach, Mike Tammaro, looks at the situation pragmatically, "we'll win a few lose some. Whenever the kids win they feel good about themselves and that's the incentive for them to keep playing".

New girls coach, Patti Cushing's philosophy is similar "look and play competitively and have fun" while you do it.

For the boys, the Riley brothers (co-captain) Kevin and Tim are in the top singles spots, while seniors Ken Chin, Randy Peach, and (co-captain) Chris Cassidy will rotate in at the doubles spot.

Big things are expected from sophomores Rob Garrett, Dan Oleasko, and Mike Whitney.

Only two freshmen have joined the team this year, John Tremblay and Steve O'Dea (brother to Kendall O'Dea varsity player on the girls team).

The girls line up is in a state of constant trial and error while coach Cushing (assisted by Kelly Cushing former doubles player for WHS) assesses her new team.

Although the teams aren't winning all their matches (as of yet), both hope to finish .500 or better.

Pop Warner registration

Wilmington Pop Warner Football registration will be held from 9 a.m. to noon, Saturday, April 10 at 4th of July Headquarters (across from the common).

Prospective players must be between the ages of 9 to 15 years as of July 31, 1999. Minimum weight is 85 pounds.

Note: anyone registering after Saturday, April 10 will be charged an additional $25 late fee.

Runners raising money

LAWRENCE - The Boston Marathon, scheduled this year for April 19, 1999 will boast its share of world-class athletes, but it will also boast the world class efforts of two Salem, New Hampshire men who will dedicate their run to raising money for Merrimack Valley Hospice.

Merrimack Valley Hospice provides medical and supportive care to terminally ill patients and their families.

Bill Hames and Sean Lawlor, both also members of the local runners' club Merrimack Valley Striders, are accepting pledges for their Boston Marathon run and will be donating all proceeds to Merrimack Valley Hospice.

"The important services that hospice offers is the driving force behind my run," said Mr. Hames.

"Hospice offers individuals and their families critical support through very difficult times. Hospice staff and volunteers are there for families around the clock to see them through the medical, emotional and spiritual challenges. We all face death at some time; facing it with the support of hospice makes all the difference in the world."

The 1999 Boston Marathon will mark Mr. Hames' 10th run dedicated to Merrimack Valley Hospice during which time he has raised more than $21,000. Mr. Lawlor will be running for Merrimack Valley Hospice for the second time.

Mr. Hames is sponsored in part by his employer, Palmer Gas/Emer Oil of Atkinson, New Hampshire and Mr. Lawlor is employed by Local 7. If you would like to pledge these special runners, please contact Community Relations Manager Christine Doherty at 1-800-933-5593 ext. 4186.

Merrimack Valley Hospice is a not-for-profit United Way member agency affiliated with Home Health VNA and HomeCare, Inc. The three agencies serve individuals and families throughout the Merrimack Valley.

Schedule changes

There are several schedule changes for Wilmington and Tewksbury sports concerning baseball. On April 8, the freshman game between Wilmington and Tewksbury has been changed to Wilmington, while the varsity and junior varsity game scheduled has been changed to April 13. The May 25th varsity and junior varsity baseball games between Wilmington and Tewksbury has been cancelled. Also cancelled is the April 15th varsity and junior varsity baseball games between Wilmington and Masconomet. But on May 25, Tewksbury will host Masconomet at 3:30.

Costabile, Almeida to run camp

The Fourth annual New England Football Camp will be run once again this year and will feature coaches Bob Almeida of Wilmington HS and Al Costabile of Shawsheen Tech.

The camp will be run at Mount Ida College in Newton the week of July 5 through July 9 and will be evenings from 4:30 to 8:30. It will be under the direction of John Papas, head football coach of the Mount Ida Mustangs and formally a coach at Harvard, Bentley and Tufts Universities. The staff will feature over 50 coaches from all levels ranging from Division I college coaches through local high school coaches.

The camp will be separated into two different camps. The Skills Camp will be for players entering high school and will feature skills and techniques required to be successful at that level. The Youth Camp will be for our campers, ages eight through 14 and will focus more on the fundamentals of football. Both camps feature games every night and will be held simultaneously on separate fields under the same direction. Camp tuition is $150.

Wilmington youth travel soccer kicks off spring season

The Wilmington Under 10A team opened their spring season with a decisive 5-1 win over Medford.

Wilmington came out strong from the opening whistle. Josh Mayo and Dana Steenbruggen set the game's tone early demonstrating strong ball handling and passing skills as their combined efforts set up Timmy Kent for the game's first goal. Minutes later Greg Stewart stripped the ball from the opposition and moved it down the field to deliver a perfect pass to Jeff Dell'Orfano who nailed the ball in the net for another goal.

Wilmington continued to keep the pressure on a somewhat flustered Medford team with great teamwork. Rich Barry put in Wilmington's third goal off a nice passing play from Dell'Orfano and Stewart. Medford tried to fight back but the strong goalie skills of Brendan Sheehan only flustered their attempts. Sheehan shut off their scoring drives multiple times before the Mustangs were finally able to connect just before the end of the first half.

The second half was dominated by Wilmington's strong team play. Brendan Sheehan made a beautiful pass to Jeff Dell'Orfano for another goal. Brian Johnson showed some classic defensive moves throughout the second half as broke multiple drives by Medford toward the net. Shane Foley showed strong offensive skill throughout the second half as well and nearly connected on net several times.

Wilmington's final goal before the whistle blew was the result of more great teamwork. Brendan Sheehan and Shane Foley outplayed all the Medford defenders to deliver the ball to Dana Steenbruggen for the goal.

Boys Under 10-C

The Wilmington boys U-10-C team opened their spring season with a win, hosting Burlington Saturday, April 3. The first half featured pressure by both forward lines consisting of Michael Johnson, Andrew Della Pelle, Steven Marsh, and Tim Perkins. With support from midfielders, James Savage and Scott Bernard, the half was predominantly played in the Burlington end of the pitch.

Despite excellent shots on the Burlington net by Michael Johnson and Tim Perkins, Wilmington was not able to score. Defenders John Lippello, Brian Connolly, Nicholas Jannone and JJ Polcari would not allow Burlington to penetrate into the Wilmington end of the pitch and goal keeper Brendan O'Riordan did not see much action at the Wilmington net. The first half ended in a scoreless tie.

In the second half the game really opened up. Midfielder James Savage and forwards John Lippello and Brian Connolly, making excellent passes and stealing the ball several times, broke in toward the Burlington goal and John Lippello opened the scoring with a hard shot past the Burlington goal keeper.

Wilmington's defense kept playing strong as Brendan O'Riordan, Andrew Della Pelle, Steven Marsh, and Tim Perkins kept Burlington's attacks at bay. Forwards JJ Polcari and Nicholas Jannone worked the ball into the Burlington end and Nicholas finished off the attack with a great shot past the Burlington goal keeper.

Burlington was doing a better job of counter attacking in the second half and Michael Johnson saw some action in the net as he made good saves and handled the ball wisely when kicking it out of the Wilmington end.

Wilmington's confidence was running high and the players were attacking aggressively. Goals were scored by forwards John Lippello, Brian Connolly, JJ Polcari, and by midfielder Scott Bernard.

Wilmington did have one defensive breakdown near the end of the game and allowed Burlington to score a goal.

this point Wilmington started to gel and they controlled the play with some nice passing. Amanda Miles, Caitlin Pazdziorko and Alicia Murray were able to keep Malden from breaking out of their own half with some great defensive play.

At the 20 minute mark Erica Frizol was able to feed Jillian Guzinski in front of the Malden goal, Jillian blasted the ball into the net for a 2-0 lead. A few minutes later Erica Frizol made it a 3-0 game with a nice shot to the far side of the net.

The second half featured Katelyn Lynch, Courtney Browne and Lauren Brassil putting on the offensive pressure.

Wilmington controlled most of the second half with some great passing and numerous shots. Adrienne Fisher, Leah O'Connell and Alyssa Smith made sure Malden didn't get many shots on keeper Julia Stein. With about 10 minutes left in the game Lauren Brassil made the score 4-0 with a beautiful low drive to the short side of the net.

Malden was able to break out in the final five minutes and they put numerous shots on goal. One blast from 20 yards out made its way into the net to make the final score 4-1.

Keepers Julia Stein and Lauren Murphy did an outstanding job all day.

Under 10B Boys

The Wilmington boys U10B travel soccer began the season with earnest and a decisive 5-1 victory at Wakefield last Saturday. The Wildcats looked solid from the starting whistle, controlling the ball for much of the time. The passing between Wilmington players was crisp and on the money. Justin Patrie, Jesse Belding and Chris Azevedo kept the attack going on the front line.

Matthew Brooks, Dan Patterson and James Cuoco held the defense together, allowing little penetration on the Wilmington half. C.J. Jeannette was the first to connect for the locals, thanks to a perfect through pass from James Cuoco up the left flank. Jeannette used his strong left foot to send the ball flying into the Wakefield goal. Unfortunately, moments later Wakefield's sole attempt on net was successful and the Wildcats closed the half in a tie.

Wilmington knew that they were in control of this game, and it was time to get the job done. Moments into the start of the second half Justin Patrie pulled out the lead, assisted by two quick passes from Patrick Ryan and Jesse Belding. Patrie received the ball, used his moves and scored the go ahead goal.

Jesse Belding then used his own moves to take the ball in all on his own and send a solid shot into the goal. Dan Patterson was in great position to knock in goal number four. And with one minute left to the match, Matthew Brooks added the final goal of the day. Wilmington's defense was so tight throughout the match that keepers Ryan and Jeannette were rarely tested. The Wildcats are off to a great beginning and this should be a fantastic soccer season for all!

Wilmington youth hockey winding down busy year

The Wilmington Mite C team played an outstanding game against Haverhill last Saturday and came home as winners, 5-4.

Haverhill came out strong in the first period scoring two goals. Connor Murphy scored Wilmington's first goal of the game with 34 seconds left in the first period.

Connor went on to earn a natural hat trick in the second period bringing the score to 3-2. Defense was strong as Nick Riccio, Danny Cushing, Steven Wamboldt, Patrick Cassidy and Brendon Foley kept the puck out of Wilmington's zone.

Anthony Botte made some great saves in goal. Andrew Goosens scored the fourth goal and DJ Bemis scored the final goal with assists from Colin Foley and Matt Kincaid. The offensive line of Peter Cushing, Frankie Sorrentino, Chris Thibault and Cameron Fitzpatrick were awesome as they kept the puck in Haverhill's zone.

The team, sponsored by Larry's Oil, played a great season.

Mite B's win, 9-0

Outstanding goal tending by Mike Cabral provided the spark the Wilmington Mite B's needed to defeat the Reading Mite B's, 9-0, in a must win game for the Cats.

The defense solidified by Evan Brennan, Kevin Creedon, Steven Dunnett, and Mike Derosa kept the Rockets off their game. The offense stepped up scoring eight unanswered goals in this contest as they out hustled the Rockets to every loose puck.

The Cats wasted little time putting the puck in the net as Scott Dacko blasted a shot by the Rocket goalie four minutes into the game. Casey Pickett collected the puck off the face off and turned and fired for a power play goal. Mike Gautreau was on the spot to knock in a Mike Derosa shot that clanged off the cross bar. Dave Sweet scored the four goal on some pretty passing from Mike Jensen to close out the first period.

Mike Jensen knocked home the rebound of a Dave Sweet shot for the only tally of the second period. The high powered Cat offense was giving the Rockets fits as Brett Robbins, Bridget Griffin, Alan Michael Santos and Matt Stokes along with the Cat defense would not let Reading break out of their end. The Cats continued their scoring as Mike Derosa made a coast to coast rush flipping the puck top corner for the tally.

Scott Dacko scored his second goal of the game with Mike Jensen getting the assist. The final tally of the game was provided on a rush by Mike Jensen who went top shelf on the Rocket goalie for his second score. Tremendous play by the line of Mike Jensen, Dave Sweet and Scott Dacko in this game coupled with the shutout performance of Brickwall Cabral and the defensive efforts of the team provided the spark for the win keeping the Cats playoff hopes alive in the Valley League.

Mite D's gave it all

The Wilmington Mite D youth hockey team dominates over Wakefield in a must win game on Saturday. The Wildcats gave it their all as they succeeded in maintaining their first place status in the Mite D Merrimack Valley League.

The first period brought a score by Wilmington as Philip D'Arcangelo crashed the net in a rebound within the first two minutes of the game. Wakefield, however, tied the game shortly thereafter. The Wildcats pulled ahead again as Philip D'Arcangelo received a perfect assist from Stefano Santini ending the first period 2-1, Wildcats.

Well into the second period, John O'Connell scored a spectacular unassisted goal and Danny Roy scored another with a fantastic assist from Stephen Tello. The Wildcats were ahead with a 4-1 lead. Matt Farrell was in net doing an excellent job of shutting Wakefield down in the second and third periods.

The defensive team, Paul Martel, Andrew Flodin, Richard Murray, Scott Benard, Charles Barbaro and Paul Bruce were aggressive and on top of Wakefield's heavy scorers, therefore helping to eliminate any further Wakefield goals.

The third period brought another superb goal from Danny Roy with another great assist from Stephen Tello.

The offensive team, Sam Grant, Liam Gately, Stephen Tello, Kyle Cimon, Stefano Santini, Kyle Creedon, John O'Connell, Danny Roy and Philip D'Arcangelo played an awesome game as they put forth all the strategies they have learned throughout the year. The final score leaves Wilmington over Wakefield 5-1.

Mites lose in the semifinal game of the District Playdowns against Medford Mite C Team. The Wildcats looked strong as Danny Roy and Liam Gately each scored. But Medford soon closed the gap and then some leading the game with a final score of 5-2.

Squirt A's take on Rockets

Monday night, March 29, the Squirt A Cats took on the pesky Reading Rocket A team at Merrimack College. The Reading team gave the Peabody A's a tough time and as the Cats would find out were no pushover as their first meeting was. The final was 3-0 Cats.

Overall a good game by the Cats, not the same intensity as the Peabody game, but good none the less! Michael McMahon, Tony Resendes and Steve Peterson added a goal each to their resume' with Scott Dunnett and Ray Bennett adding to their assists!

Again everyone else contributed beautifully allowing Scotty Sferazza to notch his fourth shutout of the season with several stellar saves required to do so! Excellent job: Billy Schultes, Ray Gravalles, Steve Stokes, Warren Fitzpatrick, Nick Yeomelakis, George Dighton, Jason Buckley and Dave Griffin.

The Cats are 15-1-3 overall in Valley League action with their record 6-1-1 since being moved up to the Squirts White South Division. At the time of this writing the Cats are in first place with 81.2 percent win ratio and Peabody in second with 80.5 percent. Friday night, April 2, the Cats took on Peabody in the last regular season game with first place on the line! What a way to end the season. Good luck Cats!!! Thanks as usual, WAA for the great support of Wilmington Youth Hockey!

Squirt III's busy

The Wilmington Squirt III youth hockey team (sponsored by J.M. Fitzpatrick Trucking Co.) played their final regular season scheduled game in the Valley League against Haverhill winning by the score of 4-0.

Like the previous meetings against the Hillies, it was a well played game on both ends of the ice. Mark Manning played in the net for Wilmington registering another shutout as he had to come up with some big stops throughout the game.

Again Manning had some help keeping the opponent off the score sheet with the tough Wildcat defensive pairs of Derek DeRosa and Derek Griffin as well as Zach Ciampa and Mike Hayes knocking the plays down at the blueline. The first period was played mainly in the neutral zone with both teams getting few opportunities on net.

Wilmington opened up the scoring in the second when Maria Tucker finished off a nice bang, bang passing combination. The helpers went out to Robby MacKinnon and Danny Silva who got the play started. The next score was an individual effort by Chris Stafford as he powered his way through three defenders shooting it in over the sprawling net-minder who was on the ice. The final tally of the period went to Keith Irwin as he took two or three whacks at a Kyle Abell rebound until it finally went in to make it 3-0 at the end of the period.

In the third the play was in the Hilly end of the rink and lucky for them their goalie also made some good stops otherwise the score could have gone a lot higher as he robbed Tucker holding on to a shot that was labeled for the right corner. The final score of the game started with a wrist shot by Derek Flodin from the top of left circle, as he was just getting banged around all afternoon by the Haverhill team.

As the goalie turned to make the play on the rebound, Derek Sullivan, in a flash came off the bench on the other side of the rink for the score. Good luck to the III's in the Valley League playoffs.

Squirt II's

Friday night, April 2, the Squirt A's took on Peabody A's in Valley

League action at the Brooks Academy rink. This game had big implications for both teams as first place was at stake depending on who won the game! This was a rematch from a week ago when these two teams played each other to a 4-4 draw in an incredible game! This one would par out to be just as exciting with the Cats out for blood and pumped up to the max, this one turned out 4-2 in the Cats favor! What a game!!!

Play was at each end of the rink with the pace of the game set on high speed. The Cats had the edge in play but Peabody had several good chances which Scotty Sferazza put a stop to. As with every other player on the team goaltender Scotty S has been coming up big with great saves when necessary and playing outstanding hockey.

The goal scorers were Steve Peterson, Tony Resendes, Steve Stokes and Dave Griffin while the assists went to Jason Buckley, Nick Yeomelakis, George Dighton, Warren Fitzpatrick and Ray Gravalles! The defense had a forceful game shutting down the Peabody offense left and right; the "D" included Michael McMahon, Ray Bennett, Billy Schultes, and Scott Dunnett. Great game by everyone!

With this outstanding game complete the Wilmington Squirt A's had wrapped up first place overall in the White South Division with Peabody landing in second! What a way to end the season on such a high note!

The Cats, hopefully keep their intense play up for the playoffs since any team in the lineup, Wilmington first, Peabody second, Cambridge third and Methuen fourth, is capable of taking the playoff championship! Good luck Cats!!!

Goglia and Hanley look to lead baseball squad

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

With two guys in the line-up who can absolutely crush the baseball, the Shawsheen Tech baseball team is looking to score some runs and wins some games with a terrific batting order and some depth in the pitching department.

Jim Goglia of Tewksbury, lead the league last year batting over .500 which included a 17-game hitting streak and five round trippers. He was the team's catcher, but with a shoulder injury he suffered during the football season, head coach Jim Deluca plans on using him as a designated hitter/utility player. Eric Hanley, a junior from Wilmington, is not only the team's number one pitcher, but he'll see some time at first base and he'll be looked upon to be the team's number three batter coming off his .400 plus batting average from a season ago.

"Yeah I feel more comfortable," answered Deluca about his second season at the helm, the first being an 8-12 season. "We have a lot of seniors back and most of the kids play two or three sports and they are in great shape. We have some great hitters and we start the season off against one of the best pitchers in the league (against Greater Lawrence) and if we can hit this kid, we should be in good shape (this season)."

Filling in for Goglia behind the plate will be Wilmington native Brian LeBlanc, who Deluca calls, "just as good of a catcher Goglia is if not better, just not the hitter." LeBlanc has been excellent thus far behind the plate and he'll be catching Hanley, a southpaw, as well as Ken Mercer a third baseman/pitcher of Wilmington among others.

The rest of the roster includes locals Matt Osterberg and Art Chase, both senior outfielders from Tewksbury and Steve Perry an infielder from Wilmington.

Boys and Girls track doing well

By Eric Froton
Sports Correspondent

To open up the spring season, the Shawsheen Tech boys track team notched victories against Monty Tech and Northeast Regional, while the girls managed to split the two meets. The boys team is looking strong this year led by Wilmington senior co-captain Jason Tildsley, and Tewksbury seniors Steve Daykin and co-captain Anthony Verrocchio.

Tildsley and Verrocchio each compete in shot-put, discus, and javelin, finishing first and second respectively in the first meet versus Monty Tech for the shot-put, with Verrocchio taking a first in the discus event in the second meet against Northeast Regional. They're going to each have prominent roles on the team this year and their combined success is imperative for Tech to contend for the league title.

Daykin is the jack of all trades so to speak, participating in high jump, long jump, 120 high hurdles, and 330 low hurdles. Amazingly he finished first in all the events he competed in for the first two meets. Daykin is the proverbial go to guy for the team in the running and jumping events.

Also running for Shawsheen are Wilmington natives Don Carbone, Dan Cheney, Ryan Jensen, Matt O'Brien, and Rob Varey. As well as Tewksbury residents Jeff Harmon, Josh Williams, Andrew Gagnon, Josh Sawicki, and Dan Shanahan.

For the Shawsheen girls, Wilmington Juniors, Krista Persson, and captain Laurene Anderson are focused on bringing home the C.A.C. league title this year.

In the first meet of the year

Anderson won the mile, long jump, and triple jump events for the Tech. This year Anderson will be looked upon to replace league all-star Bonnie Miller who graduated and was the teams top miler last year "Laurene is going to have to turn it up a notch this year," said coach Gagnon. ## Co-ed tennis team looking towards season

By Eric Froton
Sports Correspondent

This year the Shawsheen Tech co-ed tennis team and coach Pete Back are looking to compete with youth and determination after finishing as the C.A.C. league runners up for the past four years.

Last year the Rams managed to achieve an 8-2 record, losing both games to eventual league champs and rival Tyngsboro. However this year the tech is looking to cultivate its young talent so that they can be competitive for next year and years to come. Coach Pete Back commented "I'm hoping the kids don't get discouraged and just work on improving and enjoying the game".

Two of the key contributors for the present and future of the program are Wilmington natives Jim Thorp and team captain Dori Gray.

Gray was an important part of last years success, "Dori has been a solid contributor, she has a terrific net game and her ground strokes are excellent" said Back. Tech is looking for Gray to be the team leader and help along some of the underclassmen, of which most of the team is made up of.

One of the more promising underclassmen is the aforementioned Jim Thorp of Wilmington. Though only a Sophomore Thorp has caught the eye of coach Back "he has a lot of natural talent, I think he's going to be a player". Thorp is going to be looked upon to be both a singles and doubles contributor this year to gain valuable experience.

With the help of these two local athletes, Shawsheen Tech is looking forward to competing and achieving on the courts this spring.

Softball team eager with new coach

By JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Anticipation for the 1999 Shawsheen Tech girls softball season began a little last year.

This season is marked by the excitement of several new players, several new positions for veterans, while suddenly the program added eight state titles, including seven in a row.

Ed "Buddy" Henry came out of his short retirement from coaching and will now lead the girls as former longtime head coach Ed Gillis took his clipboard to Burlington to become the new Athletic Director. Henry, was a volunteer assistant for Gillis last season, but now inherits a program who is the talk of the state with the new head coach.

Henry spent over a decade as the head coach at Bishop Fenwick, where his programs won eight D-1 titles, including seven in a row. He resigned from coaching after the seventh straight title in 1997. Last year he spent the season helping Gillis out, while he also is a teacher at the Tech. Now the tandem goes hand in hand as the most prolific and exciting softball coach has brought his mind, tactics and tremendous coaching abilities to the Rams dugout.

"I'm excited to be back, it was a short retirement," quipped Henry whose official coaching debut with the Rams began on Wednesday against a tough Bedford team in a non-league contest. "There's a big difference in the talent pool from which to choose from, but I have to tell ya we have been getting great senior leadership and these kids are working really hard."

Already the team has about 20 pre-season scrimmages under its belt and that should really help them with the start of the season.

Between non-league games with Bedford and North Reading, the Rams will then take on what Henry feels is the best balanced league schedule the CAC has ever had.

"I'm confident, I've seen some strides already," he said. "I'm hoping we start out as a caterpillar and end as a butterfly, not a slug. The kids are adapting to the new system well, but we're not there yet. Hopefully we will be by the end of the season."

Already signs of Henry's magic appear to be in the loom. He has taken his catcher, Tewksbury native Flo Arsenault, and converted her into a pitcher. He has moved Melissa Hall into the catcher's position, while, junior second baseman Erika Persson of Wilmington has moved from center field to second base, and Amy McAdoo, the team's number three hitter, has been shifted to center field from the hot spot of third base.

"Flo throws very, very hard," said Henry. "We're working with her on her control, but she is one of the hardest throwers I've ever coached. If she works out, we'll use her and freshman Christy Johnson on the mound and leave Melissa Hall behind the plate."

Hall, one of the team's tri-captains, was the team's pitcher last year, but as Henry calls says, "she's one of those rare birds who can pitch and catch and she's done a great job so far (catching)." Johnson resides from Wilmington as well.

Other locals include Tewksbury natives Katie Booth a junior leftfielder, Kelley Doherty, a rightfielder, and Leigh-Anne French, a senior utility player. Kelly Gillis, a freshman of Wilmington, serves as a solid catcher/first base back-up.

Unicorn Golf Course

Stoneham, Mass.

Plenty of public golf courses

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

Are dreams of being the next David Duval, Tiger Woods or Ernie Els hampering your concentration on your golf swing? Or could it be that you wish to be one of the three top contenders for this year's Masters Tournament but have trouble remembering which end of the golf club to hold.

If it is the latter scenario that is holding you back from your dreams then the areas seven public golf courses could be just the answer for you.

In fact Stoneham has two public golf courses that pro, Paul Munro calls, the best places for people to learn the game. Munro is the manager of the historic Unicorn Golf Course and the much newer Stoneham Oaks.

"(Stoneham Oaks) is a unique place. We do a big business with kids," Munro said. "In fact, once you learn how to play you might want to leave there."

He describes the Oaks as a short, par three, nine hole course. It was carved out of the remains of the former back nine of the Unicorn about five years ago.

The rates are reasonable, especially for someone learning to play. Nine holes on weekdays are $10 for non-residents and $8 for residents. Juniors (17 and under) and seniors (60 and older) can play for $8 for non-residents and $7 for residents.

There are no reserved tee times at either the Unicorn or the Oaks and because of their popularity, 18 holes are discouraged, especially at Unicorn.

Munro said at Unicorn the golfer will pay the same price for the second round of nine holes as the first and will have to go to the rear of the line to start over again.

He described the Unicorn as the place where an Oaks player might graduate to.

"It's really, for the average player, an ideal golf course," Munro said. "There are no water holes and it is easy to walk."

The inspiration for the Masters might come from playing at Unicorn which was designed and built in 1928 by the Boston Athletic Association. According to course records, golfing great Bobby Jones played the course while attending Harvard.

The records denote another great swinger, "the Sultan of Swat," Babe Ruth, also played in between Red Sox games.

In those days the course was 18 holes. It was sold to a private owner who kept the course up until the early 1970's when the Town of Stoneham took it over.

At that time the course became the nine-hole course it is today and the ice-rink, famous for being the home of Nancy Kerrigan was built.

According to Munro, both courses allow any kind of spike to be used.

As with all of the public courses in the area it has been opened since March 26 and will remain open until the first snow falls. Last year most of the courses in the area were able to stay open until mid-December.

The Unicorn and Stoneham Oaks hours are sun-up to sundown, seven days per-week. There are no reserved tee times at either course.

Course fees for Unicorn are $13 for residents and $15 for non-residents. Monday through Friday until 2 p.m. juniors and seniors can play for $8 for residents, and $10 for non-residents.

Munro is a Professional Golf Association pro and gives group Folks as a Carpenter I helped my late father build houses. I also helped my cousin Angelo Quaganti build brick walls and stairs. BUT, I have NEVER hung wallpaper.

So, I was surprised when Kathy came home with a bundle of wallpaper and told me I was to paper the living room. She said, "you can do it, even a Moron can hang wallpaper."

Well I guessed I qualified so I was hanging the first piece, when I looked out the window and saw Aunt Nora coming up the walk. I shouted to Kathy, "tell her I'm NOT HOME!!"

Folks, that's exactly what she said, "Woodchipper, told me to tell YOU that he's NOT home." Aunt Nora BARGED into the room and shouted, "STOP!! You are hanging that piece Upside-down! The Roses should face UP-NOT DOWN!!"

"Hey," I replied, "If you two

About The Towns

by Phyllis Nissen

Avoiding a slam dunk in Burlington and Woburn

"The backups in both directions and queuing of cars entering the lot there are common, at morning rush hour," notes the Woburn edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The location is the Winn Street Dunkin' Donuts, and at a recent selectmen's meeting, board member George Judge called it 'a real bad-news situation.'"

"Selectmen Chairman Gary Gianino indicated that the town has received 'complaints from Woburn residents about the south end of Winn Street and the Dunkin' Donuts there."

"I know it's a problem area, with cars parked on the street," said Gianino.

"It's not only getting in and out," said Judge. "It's also the speed of the cars coming down Winn Street."

"We've got a real serious problem," Judge went on to say. "Maybe we can get together in a joint fashion with the Woburn people and come to some sort of a solution."

"Police Chief William Soda, in the audience, said the area is patrolled by a cruiser as much as possible."

"We will continue to write tickets," said Soda.

"Gianino agreed that Woburn Mayor Robert Dever should be contacted regarding the matter."

Zapping the competition in Wilmington

"Screenprint, a Wilmington screenprinter of nameplates, decals and graphic overlays, has been awarded two awards in the 'Golden Image Awards,' and international printing competition sponsored by the Screenprinting and Graphic Imaging Association International (SGIA). The competition was held during the Association's annual convention held in Kansas City," notes the

"Wilmington Town Crier."

"Screenprint's entries were a graphic overlay that received an Award of Excellence and a pressure sensitive candle label in the competition's Digital Printing category that received an Award of Distinction. Featuring over 1,300 samples of the finest commercial screenprinting work produced worldwide, competition samples were evaluated by a team of judges selected from the Association's International membership."

"Screenprint printed the winning entries on an Indigo Omnis 'one shot' six color digital press. The press has the capability to produce short run, full color, high quality labels, nameplates, and graphic overlays without the long lead time involved in the printing technologies. Screenprint just added a second Omnis press to their versatile press complement."

"Screenprint continues a disturbing record in winning this award. Screenprint also won the prestigious Massachusetts Quality Award."

"Each participating company matched its work against the finest screen printing produced around the world," said SGIA President John M. Crawford. "Judging was very rigorous and winning an award is truly a superlative achievement denoting technical excellence."

"For more information, contact Glenn DeLuca at (800)776-1201, extension 2222, or visit our website at www.screenprinting.com."

Channeling energy in Reading

"In the fast-paced, live-shot world of television news in the Nineties, it's rare to find someone who has some extra time to themselves, let alone a person who's willing to share that time with strangers."

"Reading's Robert Miele is a Senior Director at WHDH

lessons in the spring and early summer.

For information on Unicorn call (781) 438-9732. For Stoneham Oaks call (781) 438-7888.

A misconception of many people in the area is that the municipally owned Woburn Country Club does allow members. However, a call to the Woburn Golf and Ski Authority, the manager of the club turns up the fact that it is not a membership that is sold but a season pass for the greens fee. These are sold to Woburn residents only and can be bought in varying amounts.

For more information on the passes call the Authority office at (781) 933-9880.

Professional Assistant Mike Gaffney described the nine hole course, built in 1923, as a par 34, 2,996 yard men's course and a par 35, 2,565 women's course.

Tee times need to be reserved for weekends and must be called in on Thursday. The course is open from 7 a.m. to dusk, seven days a week.

There is league play Monday through Friday from 3 p.m. to 6 p.m., otherwise it is open golf.

Rates are $16 during the week and $17 on weekends, for nine holes. An 18 hole game would run $24 and $27.

Seniors can play for $12 for nine and $18 for 18 holes and Juniors are $10. These special rates are Monday through Friday until 2:30 p.m. and not good on holidays.

Paul Barkhouse, a PGA listed pro, is available for lessons.

The last of the areas municipally owned courses is the 18-hole Hillview Golf Course in North Reading. Although the course is owned by the town it is run by GFM Inc. and it is strictly a public course.

Course Manager, and PGA pro, Chris Carter, said the back nine holes of the course was built between 1910 and 1915 and the front nine was added in 1957. The course was privately owned until 1986.

Tee times are first come first served Monday through Friday. On weekends and holidays they can be reserved in the morning and open play resumes in the afternoon.

"It's a busy place on Monday through Friday during the peak season," Carter said.

He noted that the wait on those days, for a tee time, is about one-half hour.

According to Carter, private and group lessons are available. He and Director of Golf Dick Baker give the lessons.

The green fees are:
•Monday through Friday, $15 for nine holes and $27 for 18;
•Saturday, Sunday and holidays, $17 for nine and $29 for 18;
•Senior/Juniors (before 12 p.m. weekdays), $10 and $20.

Corporate or group outings are welcome on Mondays until 1 p.m.

Jacobs notes that the course is the site of several New England Professional Golf Association tournaments.

Soft spikes are mandatory for play on the course. For more information call (978) 664-4435

The title "Home of the Privately Owned Public Golf Course" might be given to the town of Lynnfield where the Colonial, the Lynnfield Centre and the Sagamore Springs are located. The three courses are separately owned entities.

Colonial Country Club owned by the Sheraton Hotels is described by Assistant Head Pro Bob Jacobs as, "A public resort with health club, pool hotel driving range and a full staff of four teaching professionals."

The course includes 18-holes with a driving range and several water challenges. It is located on the banks of the Reedy Meadows and Saugus River.

According to Jacobs, there is no wait during the week at this time of year and "It is first come first served until April 26."

After that date tee times should be reserved at least three days in advance.

Jacobs notes that the course is able to accommodate large and small groups of golfers seven days a week.

The rates are:

•Weekdays - $38 with a cart for 18 holes and $23 for nine;
•Saturday and Sunday rates are $48 and $28;
•Full season rates are $59 with cart for Saturday and Sundays, $52 for Fridays and $46 Monday through Thursday.

Golf lessons are available by appointment. For more information call (781) 245-0335. Soft spikes are preferred.

The Lynnfield Centre Golf Course has been in existence on the Reedy Meadows and Saugus River since 1931, according to general Manager Bob Baker.

There is no driving range. However, PGA pro Bob Ryan does give lessons by appointment.

Group outings can be booked on Mondays and Tuesdays only and the bookings are made by calling Erika Luft at the above number.

Golf lessons are provided by PGA and LPGA professional Kelli Kostic. For an appointment call (781) 334-3655.

The 18-hole course has the challenge of five water hazards among other items.

Patient guide to headaches

The National Headache Foundation (NHF) has published a comprehensive resource guide, Managing Headaches: What You Need To Know, for headache patients. In an effort to improve the information available to headache sufferers, the NHF created this booklet as an accompaniment to the Second Edition of the Standards of Care for Headache Diagnosis and Treatment, a manual for healthcare professionals.

The information Managing Headaches is intended to improve the quality of care of headache patients by enabling them to take a more active role in their healthcare. The objective is to have patients and physicians work together using these guidelines so patients can achieve headache control.

"Managing Headaches: What You Need To Know provides an

in-depth look into:

- What Type of Headache Do You Have? Lists headache categories with descriptions and symptoms for each (migraine with and without aura, episodic and chronic tension-type headaches and cluster headaches)

- The Initial Office Visit: How to talk to your doctor about headaches and what to expect from the visit (includes compiling your headache history, diagnostic testing methods, the physical exam and "red-flags" in headache diagnosis)

- Treatments for Headaches: Detailed information about medications and non-medication treatment options (includes which medications to use for each headache type and provides general medication guidelines.)

- Headache Follow-Up Care: What to do after the initial headache diagnosis (includes when to consult specialists)

- Drug Appendix-A 50-page, two part appendix listing drugs by both trade and generic name along with the drug classification.

Watching your kids health

By DR. HEDI L. LEISTNER
New York University
School of Medicine

Does your child often miss school, avoid physical activities and require trips to the doctor's office or emergency room? Does he have trouble dashing up stairs, running for a bus and participating in sports? If so, his asthma could probably be under better control.

Sometimes it is necessary for parents to explain their child's condition, beyond the doctor's usual questions. For example, if you're asked, "When was your child's last asthma attack?" don't just say, "Three months ago."

A better response would be, "She hasn't had an attack in three months, but she wakes up three times a night and can't run without coughing and wheezing." Describe the pattern of symptoms. It is essential to forge a partnership with the doctor and treat your child together.

The faster you control the symptoms each time, the less medication your child will need. Specialists have always adjusted drug doses depending on the child's symptoms. Pediatricians and family doctors should do the same.

For a baby with asthma, educate yourself well and treat symptoms promptly. Babies have very small airways and tire quickly from coughing or wheezing. They can't resist asthma symptoms as well as older children.

Helpful Drugs

Every asthma patient should have an asthma action plan. If he feels fine, doesn't cough, can run and can sleep through the night, anti-inflammatory drugs such as propranolol In-deral provide simple treatment for flare-ups.

If the child has mild wheezing, a tight chest and coughs, especially at night, he may need a bronchodilating drug such as albuterol (brand names: Proventil, Ventolin) — the best cough medicine for bronchitis — and a higher dose of the anti-inflammatory drug.

All asthma patients should keep an oral steroid such as prednisone in the house. Ask the doctor for a prescription and fill it. It is inexpensive and very effective. You may have to use it for only a day or two. If you wait, you may have to use it for a week or more.

Your doctor may suggest trying a new class of asthma medications called leukotrienes or leukotriene inhibitors. Chemicals called leukotrienes are released by lung cells during an asthma attack, causing lung tissue to become inflamed. This leads to wheezing. For some patients who are 6 and older, an anti-leukotriene called montelukast sodium (Singulair) is a wonder drug. The cherry-flavored chewable tablet is taken once a day and works within 24 hours.

Dry powder and fine-mist inhalers look promising, too.

Asthma Triggers
Scientists don't yet know what causes asthma, but they do know what provokes it. Many children are fine until they get a cold. Then asthma symptoms kick in. If a cold starts, increase a child's medications with your doctor's approval.

Exercise and allergic reactions are common triggers. So are pets. Unless the symptoms are severe, you don't have to bid farewell to Puff or Fido. Just keep them out of the child's bedroom.

Dust and chalk dust in school can be rough on asthma. Kids need reliable and prompt access to medication. Most older children can learn to use an inhaler properly. Work with the school to allow her to carry one.

The one thing everyone can do to help prevent children from developing asthma and to help prevent symptoms if it develops is not to smoke. And don't allow smoking in your home.

Dr. Hedi L. Leistner is associate clinical professor of pediatrics at New York University School of Medicine in New York City.

Cardiac Survival Project

What began as an ambitious goal three years ago has become a reality for the Cardiac Survival Project, a public service effort led by Hallmark Health. The project recently celebrated its incredible achievement of training 10,000 local residents in cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR). That means 10,000 more lifesavers in our communities and 10,000 more chances to survive a cardiac arrest.

"I never doubted that we could do it," Says Wakefield Fire Department Chief David Parr, who also attended the celebration event. "I just worried that the participants would lose interest in the Project, but it never happened. This dedicated group remained focused and committed to the goals it set in 1995. One of those goals was to train more people in CPR since prompt initiation of CPR can help save lives."

Nearly 100 attended the event including Melrose Mayor Patrick Guerriero, Hallmark Health Chief Executive Officer Richard S. Quinlan and Hallmark Health cardiologist David Pladziewicz. All three spoke about personal experiences with cardiac arrest, sharing their belief in the Project's endeavors.

In a surprise move at the celebration event, Quinlan presented two defibrillators, life-saving equipment which jolts the heart back into rhythm following cardiac arrest to Melrose Mayor Patrick Guerriero.

School Notes

by Phyllis Nissen

Reading, writing and money matters

Learning with 'our' Ms. Brooks in Tewksbury

"Advanced Placement (AP) courses are known at Tewksbury Memorial High School (TMHS) as being generally tough," notes Michelle Kim Lee in the "Tewksbury Town Crier."

"In order to take an AP class, a student must have proven to be committed to the subject and must show more than a general understanding. TMHS students have a few courses to choose from: American History (a two-year course), Biology, British Literature, Calculus and Physics. Most of these courses are to be taken your senior year, which can be rough since that is one of the most stressful years a high school student will go through.

"Unlike other courses, AP courses are taken through the entire year. The first half of the year is for the course and the second half is known as the 'prep.' What do these students prepare for? In May, these students must take the AP exam. Many AP students take more than one AP course and therefore, must take more than one exam during the test week. If a student places a 3 or above (on a 1-5 scale), he or she may be eligible to receive college credit from a college or university the next year.

"So you already know that these courses are tough. You may think, 'So what? They're supposed to be tough!' But often AP courses go beyond the regular curriculum. Take the AP British Literature course for instance. This intense English course is taught by Ms. Jennifer Brooks. This year it consists of fifteen members (all seniors): Shannon Baker, Christina Belmonte, Jess Chace, Michelle DiFelice, Michelle Drevet, Rachel Hummrich, Michelle Lee, Melissa Mackay, Lisa Marco, Kristen Murphy, Scott Murphy, Lisa Parcella, Danielle Pearce, Larry Reed, Krissy Skare.

"As a member of this class, I can tell you first hand that this class is tough. During the summer, we read three novels: 'Pride and Prejudice,' 'Brave New World,' and 'Pillars of the Earth.' We kept a journal on our readings. Our first day of school had no introduction - just a test.

Since then we've focused on Bible selections (strictly for historical and background information) and Old English poetry. We also have read Beowulf, Pearl, Le Morte D'Arthur, and 'Canterbury Tales.' We've written several papers, had numerous class discussions, made visuals, and digressed into each and every work. And how can I forget our 'sacred' writing time. Every Tuesday and Friday, we get forty-five minutes to write in a separate notebook. Whether it is just a train of thoughts, a poem, or a short story, it is a time of both relaxation and a chance to help develop ourselves as writers...."

Looking toward the best of hands in Woburn

"The School Committee voted to approve a new School Nurse Handbook at a recent meeting," notes the Woburn edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The sole exception was the section containing the policy regarding the administration of medications, which is a revised policy and needed to be tabled for 30 days, according to Supt. Dr. Carl Batchelder.

"Two other changes had also been made subsequent to the handbook being presented. They include taking out an LPN position description which does not currently exist, and cannot, as only registered nurses qualify for certification as a school nurse in Massachusetts, Batchelder said.

"There is a position at the high school known as a licensed medical personnel position, he said, who must be at least an LPN. That position exists only at the high school where there are two nurses, the LPN working with an RN.

"The other change is clarification that the RN School Nurse job description requires that the person be certified, not just certifiable, as a school nurse."

Dealing with 'fiscal 2000' in Winchester

"To the dismay of some School Committee members, Superintendent Dr. Carol Eaton submitted a fiscal 2000 budget proposal to Town Manager Chad Maurer based on the scenario 'what we would do if we had to meet the town manager's budget,'" notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"Eaton arranged program funding to total the town manager's funding projection, $941,000 less than the fiscal 2000 budget supported by the School Committee.

"The intention is to show people the serious damage that would be done, if the School Committee's fiscal budget is not approved by the Finance Committee, Eaton said.

"If the town manager's school budget was implemented, staffing and program funding would remain stagnant, preventing implementation of valuable resource and curriculum improvements, Eaton said.

"Many School Committee members were unsettled by the recently submitted budget to the town manager, claiming that the budget they proposed is what is needed for quality education in Winchester. Anything less would place student development in jeopardy.

"I think the School Committee should have looked at that list first," said School Committee chairman Eli Bortman.

"Some of the items reduced on that list may not have been what the School Committee wants to reduce."

"Despite not seeing the proposals submitted, Bortman was more concerned that some would get the wrong impression, and assume the School Committee would agree with the reductions.

"We need to advocate for the budget that we presented," said School Committee member Kathleen Bodie...."

Channel 7 in Boston, working on the 5 pm, 6 pm and 11 pm newscasts, a job that can require long and odd hours at the studio. Free time becomes precious, yet Miele has been spending some of that time at Reading Memorial High School, teaching a television production class at the MediaOne studio....I was just looking to give something back, to get involved," said Miele.

"At Channel 7, Miele schedules other directors and assistant directors.

"It's kind of like being a crew chief in a union," said Miele. "My main job is working with the producers. Producers control the content of the show. I like to say that producers build the car, and directors get to drive it. Once we go on the air, the producer's job is over, and it's time to do the day to day directing of the show."

"Miele grew up in Wilmington and graduated from Westfield State College before embarking on an internship at Channel 7 back when it was still a CBS station. It led to a full-time job, and he has been there ever since. Because he is a native of Wilmington, he developed a close relationship with the cable station in that town, giving tours of the station for young people and taking three or four kids around with him as part of the high school's Shadow Day program.

"When Reading's Gary Cormier, a Channel 3 veteran started working at Channel 7, Miele learned of the need for a teacher for the high school program after the departure of John Upton, a Reading Channel 3 mainstay who is now in charge of sports programming for MediaOne...."

"The Out-of-Towners"

MOVIE: "THE OUT-OF-TOWNERS"
GRADE: **

Review: Steve Martin and Goldie Hawn are reunited as a couple having various mishaps while on vacation in Manhattan, and the formulaic situations they are placed in manage to make the two of them look about as funny as a court summons.

The film is a remake of what wasn't a very successful film the first time around, and one has to wonder when Hollywood will get the picture and stop rereading films no one wants to see again.

The film is completely without merit, because Martin and Hawn do have some singularly funny scenes (such as when Martin's character mistakenly takes a hallucinogenic drug and starts tripping), and John Cleese is very good as a check-in clerk at a hotel, but it's all the same old silliness they have been doing for years (Cleese simply retreads some of his 'Fawlty Towers' schtick that was funny 15 years ago), and they aren't given much to work with in the script to begin with.

Length: 96 minutes

SHORTTAKES
MOVIE: "EDTV"
GRADE: ***

Review: The plotline of this movie is very similar to last year's hit 'The Truman Show', but director Ron Howard takes an approach to the story of a man's life that is played out on television screens across the country that is fresh and original.

Matthew McConaghey plays Ed, an ordinary guy who is chosen to have his every move videotaped and broadcast live as part of a new programming endeavor, dreamed up by Ellen Degeneres.

Along the way he meets and falls in love with a woman, played by Jenna Elfman, who has a hard time adjusting to the fact that millions are watching, and voicing opinions, on their every move (in one scene a newspaper poll shows that a majority of Americans don't feel she is good enough for Ed, which sets her off).

The main difference between this film and 'Truman' is that Ed is fully aware that his life is being broadcast on television, and is willing to go along with it. Howard has stated that the story was very personal, because he has spent his entire life either in front of or behind the camera, and grew up with all of America watching as he acted on television shows that spanned the decades. Elfman and McConaghey are very funny, as are supporting players like Woody Harrelson, Rob Reiner, and Elizabeth Hurley, who plays and actress willing to attempt to seduce Ed to further her career.

MOVIE: "TRUE CRIME"
GRADE: ***

Review: This movie is very well done for the first 90 minutes or so, but all the loose ends are tied up a little too neatly and cleanly at the end.

Clint Eastwood directed this feature and stars in it as well, playing Steve Everett, an aging journalist who was at the top of his profession in New York City before alcohol and a scandalous story involving the mayor of the Big Apple cost him his job. He now works for the Oakland Tribune, and has a history for trying to make more out of a story than there really is to write about.

His editor, played by Denis Leary, hands him a human interest story about the last few days of a man on death row after the woman who was to conduct the interview is killed in a drunk driving accident. He begins to look at the history of the case, and finds inconsistencies that lead him to believe that the black man, sentenced to death after he was convicted of shooting a white, pregnant store clerk who owed him $96, may not have been the killer after all. The only problem is he is scheduled to be executed in about eight hours, and Everett has to come up with some hard evidence, not just hunches, in a hurry.

James Woods turns in an excellent performance as the managing editor at the Tribune, a man who brought Everett there from New York and still believes in him as a top-notch reporter. Leary is believable as the editor, but doesn't have a whole lot to work with, besides a seething hatred for Everett, who is sleeping with his boss' wife.

Eastwood is very good and believable as the aging writer, whose love of booze and infidelity have cost him his job, and now likely his family. His real-life daughter plays his five-year-old in this one, and the two of them have some very good scenes together, although she is outacted by the young actress who plays convicted murderer Frank Beecham's daughter, in a very dramatic scene where she visits her father for what could be the last time on the day of his scheduled execution.

MOVIE: "WING COMMANDER"
GRADE: @!$%!!

Review: No, those symbols next to the grade aren't typos, just one reviewer attempting to say what he really feels about this movie in a family newspaper. This movie is worse than all of Dan Duquette's hairdos combined.

Freddie Prinze, Jr.'s young career takes a turn into deep doo-doo-ville with this tale of a band of hotshot pilots fighting to save humanity from the evil Kilrathi race, who look like they were put together with whatever slop was left over from the last Muppet movie. The plot is hard to follow, the technical jargon makes no sense (why bother translating the Kilrathi's words when all they are saying are innane statements like 'Why is the red light on? I don't know'), and the acting is worse than when Dennis Rodman and Carmen Electra told the world that they really do love each other.

The movie is based on a very popular, and very good, video game, and was directed by the game's creator - so there is no excuse for why this production is so terrible. About the only saving grace is that the new coming attraction trailer for Star Wars Episode 1 is playing with it.

Enough said.

Workshop Read Your Old House

The Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities (SPNEA) presents the Reading Your Old House Workshop on Saturday, April 17, from 10 am until 4 pm at the Field-Hodges House in North Andover.

SPNEA's own experts will instruct homeowners how to "read" their old houses by finding clues in decorative details, evaluating problem areas, and identifying later additions and remodelings. The Workshop will also provide criteria for preserving the significant details that impart historical character to an older home, helping homeowners avoid costly mistakes in updating a house for contemporary use.

The Field-Hodges House is a Greek revival house with some Victorian and early 20th-century alterations. The house will serve as a case study allowing participants to identify important features and alterations of the house. Admission to this event, including lunch, is $50 for members of SPNEA and $65 for non-members. please call 617-227-3957, ext. 271 to register.

The Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities, headquartered in Boston, is a museum of cultural history. SPNEA preserves, interprets and collects buildings, landscapes and objects reflecting New England life from the 17th century to the present for the enjoyment and benefit of all.

Treat your houseplant like a person

Walk into a room accented with houseplants and you instantly feel a sense of warmth and beauty regardless of the scenery outdoors. Yet, for some people the fear of how to select and properly care for a plant keeps the greenery outside where it can be left to Mother Nature's care.

A little bit of know-how on houseplants selection and care will give anyone a green thumb and a home of vibrant greenery, according to Michael Malo, a gardening expert with The Home Depot.

"The most important rule of plant care is to treat a houseplant like a person. Just like humans, plants need to be fed properly and they don't like change," Malo said.

He offers the following tips on buying and caring for indoor plants.

Leave out the guesswork
Careful examination of the leaves is the most important determinant of finding a healthy plant. When selecting a plant from a group of the same species, choose those which are shorter and stockier, with dense foliage versus one that is taller with spindly leaf structures. The foliage on most species should reach down the entire stem to the soil.

Browning leaves which may indicate too much heat or over fertilization, are a telltale sign of trouble. Pale or yellow lower leaves indicate the plant has not been properly watered. Signs of pest infestation include light spots on the leaves or a cotton-like substance where the leaves and stem join.

Quality growers treat plants like humans by "acclimating" them over a period of days or weeks before selling them to retailers. They "toughen" up the plant to prepare it for a home environment by gradually reducing light and moisture levels. Of course, just like humans, some plants are more demanding than others. Flowering plants generally require more bright sun and care than foliage plants, Malo said.

One of the most popular foliage plants is the philodendron, best recognized for its viny stems and heartshaped leaves, and available to hundreds of species. They are popular because they are easy to grow, pest free and propagate in quantity.

Malo also recommends a spider plant for their easy care and positive oxygen exchange. Some plants take in more carbon dioxide and give off more oxygen than others, he said. Ficus, on the other hand, are more finicky, but are also popular.

"Ficus are very short tempered. They don't like to be moved even from room to room. You'll find they react to change by dropping leaves," Malo said.

Plant food for thought

Before you leave a store with a new plant, be sure to ask an expert for advice on lighting, watering and feeding. If you take home a healthy plant and it seems to be homesick, chances are good you have made one of several common mistakes.

The plant is either not receiving enough light or there is too much nitrogen in the fertilizer if the stems grow usually long and the leaves become long and pale. If you must use a low light room for the plant's home, consider using a plant growing light. For fertilization, most people don't realize the average plant only needs to be fertilized every six months.

Also, if the tips of the leaves become brown, if they wilt or if the lower leaves turn yellow and fall off, it's likely that it is not receiving enough water. Plants should be watered until water runs out of the bottom of the pot, and then they should not be watered again until the soil is dry to the touch. Cut back any brown leaf tips with scissors.

The plant needs humidity, if the leaf edges are crinkly and brown. You can either use a humidifier or put the pot on moist pebbles in a tray. Misting the leaves is also helpful.

If the plant wilts between watering or the roots fill the top of the pot and reach down through the bottom holes, the plant is asking for a larger pot. Plants should only be repotted into containers one size larger than the current one, Malo said.

Most gardening retailers now stock products designed to make plant care more simple. Self-watering pots are perfect for moisture loving plants like violets since the plant can continually take the water it needs.

At Carlson Real Estate, Better Homes and Gardens we are committed to sell your property at the best possible price, with the most favorable terms and the least inconvenience to you. How will you know that the price you obtain represents the best possible price the market would deliver if all the buyers in the market are not given a chance to see it?

OUR GUARANTEE: To sell your property at the best possible price ... by allowing full exposure to the marketplace! The Winner is YOU!!

"M.E.'s for You"

Easy way to restore an old foundation

When restoring an old foundation, a standard mortar starting mix for restoration work is 1 part portland cement, 2 to 4 parts lime and 8 to 12 parts sand. You may have to do some experimenting with the different kinds of sand available locally before you choose what's best. It's OK to mix different kinds of sand to try to get the consistency of the mortar as close to the original as possible. Keep the mix relatively dry - it's easier to work with and you'll get less splattering. Try to be as neat as possible, because this will reduce the time spent on cleaning the surface when you are done.

When it comes to tinting agents, iron oxides are the best way to go. These oxides are available at masonry supply outlets. The tint is anywhere from one-half to 2 percent of the volume of the mix. Start with about one-eighth teaspoon as a base, and work your way up from there. Make four samples and let them sit four or five days (the mortar will lighten up considerably over time) and see which one comes closest to the original color. Then, try going a little above and a little below this mix, to give you two more shades to choose from. Out of the three, one should be close enough so that your repainting blends in with the rest of the wall.

The basics of repainting hold true for any foundation work. First, the joint must be cleaned out to a depth about three times the width of the joint. So, if you're working on a one-half-inch-wide joint, cut it back to 1 1/2 inches.

Various sized cold chisels and stiff wire brushes are good cleaning tools. Be sure to brush away all the mortar before adding your new mortar.

Keep the joint moist, and layer in the new material. Don't try to fill it all at once. On interior walls or any areas below grade, it's OK to fill the joint flush with the wall surface. On exposed areas, shaping the mortar in a V-joint to expose the edges of the brick looks nice.

The unevenness of the joints in a rubble or stone wall makes this repainting project a bit harder. A general rule of thumb is to show as much of the building material (in this case the stone) as you can. Keep the mix as dry as possible, drier than you would for brick. You'll need a variety of different size pointing tools on hand to fill the different size joints, and will find yourself switching constantly between them. These are commonly available at masonry supply houses.

The final step in this job is aging and cleaning the results of all your hard labor. This must be done a day or two after your repainting is complete. Don't wait any longer since you must do this while the mortar is still soft and hasn't completely cured.

First, wet the wall down thoroughly - really saturate it. Then apply a weak solution of muriatic acid to the new spots you've pointed. Generally, you'll end up with a solution that is 4 parts, 5 parts or 6 parts water to 1-part muriatic acid. (The acid is sold in a solution form to make it safer to use. Therefore, the solution you create for cleaning your masonry work is dependent on the strength of the acid solution you buy).

There's an easy way to arrive at the right mix. Add a little acid to a bucket of water and drop in a piece of the new mortar. If it doesn't foam, add a little more acid. The minute the mortar foams, you've attained a chemical reaction between the lime and the acid, and the mix is ready.

Just brush it on the wall with a soft or natural bristle brush. Don't leave it on for more than a minute or two. Follow this with a thorough rinsing with a hose. Only tackle patches of 10 to 15 square feet at a time. No matter how good you are, you're bound to slop a bit of the mortar on the face of the brick or stone. But if you kept the mortar mix dry, it shouldn't require lots of elbow grease or a strong acid solution to remove the mortar stains.

10 great reasons to enjoy a new deck

In order to make the most of our summer months, here are the top ten reasons, why summer is the ideal time to build and enjoy a deck:

#10 Hello Sunshine! there's no need to pack a cooler and stuff umbrellas, folding chairs, and towels into the back of your car for a day at the park or beach when you can relax and enjoy the sun just outside your own back door.

#9 Pool parties are a splash with a deck to relax on after a long day of swimming. The great thing about using Kodiak wood is that you can build a deck and immediately stain it, unlike other wood products that must be installed for six months before staining. This way you can build your new deck, stain it the next day, and plan your party for the same weekend!

#8 Labor Day is coming and it's time to hold the annual backyard barbecue! Decks make these events more fun and less stressful for everyone. Guests don't have to worry about walking through bug-infested grass, and clean-up is easier and confined to one area.

#7 Decks extend the living spaces of your home. With a deck, you have the benefits of both a spacious living room and the beauty of the outdoors.

#6 It's often easier to stay in than go out when things finally wind down at the end of a busy week. As stressful as it is to make reservations, find a movie or a show you actually want to see, schedule a sitter, and then find the energy just to get ready often is not worth all the effort.

#5 Dinner shouldn't be a chore in the summertime. Experts say that grilling can be one of the healthiest ways to prepare food as well as being quick and easy. Decks provide the perfect outdoor kitchen space to prepare and enjoy a relaxed meal after a long day.

#4 Decks aren't just for dinner, though! Why waste another beautiful Saturday morning eating cold cereal in front of cartoon reruns when you could be outside enjoying a cool morning breeze.

#3 Decks give landscaping a new look. Just because you build a deck doesn't mean you have to lose your cherished flower or vegetable garden. Many gardeners are realizing the benefits of gardening in containers.

#2 Adding a deck doesn't mean adding work! In fact, a deck can cut the time you normally spend mowing the lawn and trimming the hedges. And by using low maintenance products like Kodiak wood, you also avoid the effort of staining your deck.

And the #1 reason why summer is the best time to build a deck.

#1 Great investment in your home! Decks that are built and maintained properly return approximately 71 percent of their original cost at the time of the home sale.

Try to protect your hearing during shopwork

We may associate hearing loss from noise with years of being plugged in to loud rock music. But there's a basic fact that every do-it-yourselfer should know: tools make noise, and loud noise of any kind damages your hearing.

Noise is measured in units called decibels (db); the louder the noise, the higher the decibel rating. Most experts say 85 db is the safe maximum noise level. Devices for hearing protection are rated in terms of their ability to block noise and reduce decibel levels; this is their noise reduction rating (NRR). Hearing protection with an NRR of 30 will reduce the noise reaching your ears by about 30 db.

For example, if you're working with a circular saw that screams at 110 db, you need a hearing protector rated at 25 NRR or more to bring the sound into the safe range (110 db minus 25 db equals 85 db). Extremely loud situations, such as shooting a firearm, dictate using both earmuffs and earplugs.

Examples of loudness levels are a painfully loud jackhammer at 140 db, extremely loud chain saw (120 db) or gas-powered mower (110 db), very loud wet-dry vacuum cleaner (100 db) or drill press or truck traffic (90 db). Acceptable levels are a typewriter or electric razor (80 db). Normal conversation is rated at 60 db.

There are two basic modes of hearing protection: in the ear and over the ear. Various kinds of earplugs provide in-the-ear protection. Earmuffs of different designs provide over-the-ear protection. Choose a protector with an NRR that brings the noise into the 85 db safe range.

Earplugs are inexpensive yet offer extremely good protection. The best are rated at 33 NRR. They're effective because they go inside the ear and conform to the ear canal, blocking the sound path. But they also pick up earwax and oils, and are more likely to attract dust and sawdust when removed. They must be cleaned or replaced frequently.

Earmuffs cost more than earplugs but last longer and are harder to misplace. The best offer an NRR of about 30. Unlike earplugs, they don't risk carrying dirt into the ear canal. They also protect from flying debris.

Ideally, you should wear hearing protection any time the noise level exceeds 85 db — the approximate volume of a drill or garbage disposal.

Six steps to sensational homemade compost

Smart gardeners know that adding homemade compost is one of the best ways to improve garden soil. Compost contains many of the nutrients that healthy plants need, and it also improves the soil's ability to hold moisture. Plus, composting is a terrific way to recycle yard and kitchen waste.

Fortunately, making first-rate compost is easy. Just follow these steps:

1. Find the right locations. Your compost pile should be conveniently close to the kitchen and garden.
2. Gather ingredients. All you need to make compost is roughly equal amounts of fresh green materials (such as grass and vegetable wastes), dead brown materials (leaves, straw, etc.) and soil or unfinished compost. Never add meat products or pet wastes.
3. Shred and mix ingredients. In a working compost pile, billions of micro-organisms chew up organic matter, converting it to dark, rich humus. The smaller the pieces, the faster this process takes place. You may choose to add a compost accelerator, which provides the necessary energy source to speed decomposition. Try Compost Alive!, an organic product available from Gardens Alive! (812-537-8650).

4 Add water. Your compost pile should be thoroughly damp but not soggy.

5. Turn the pile. Turning ensures that material at the edges that is not decomposed gets to the center of the pile where it can heat up and break down. It also ensures the proper air circulation to the pile.

6. Use your fresh compost. Your compost is ready to work into your garden soil when it's dark and crumbly. It should have a sweet, earthy smell.
